AGAINST THE WIND

Strive as one does to improve the circulation of this magazine it still amounts, in effect to battling against the wind. Previous season’s subscribers do not renew, others take their place, and one is left with virtually the same number subscribing from one season to the next.

Happily subscriptions for this season are running ahead of last but only one league in the country take a copy per member club and as that is Bolton\ the Editor’s League, this is not surprising. But just think what an effect on the circulation there would be if every league did the same.

Last season’s Management Committee Report listed 313 leagues throughout the country with 7,079 member clubs and yet the circulation figures still remain far short of that number.

One can only come to the conclusion that the vast majority of leagues are so insular and parochial what happens outside their own backyard is of no interest whatsoever to them. But they pose the question what do we get for our affiliation fees? Well the magazine tells them what happens elsewhere— the International, County and National leagues, the open tournaments and county notes in abundance.

Indeed every aspect ranging from sponsorships to previously unknown youngsters breaking through into the big time. It’s all there yet you few want to know, unless it is they read a communal copy.

Why does not our sport attract more youngsters breaking through into the big time. It’s all there yet very few want to know, unless it is they read a communal copy. Why does not our sport attract more young people wanting to know. You can indeed get their interest but you still have to work for it.

RAMPANT SWEDES

Twice away in their opening matches, to Hungary on Sept 21 in Cegled, and to England on Oct 12 in Sunderland, Sweden have emerged as the pace-setters in the Super Division of the European League.

One had to look twice at the result sheet which showed Sweden beating Hungary 7-0 but there it was for despite six of the seven sets going to a third game the end result was a "whitewash" for the home team.

Mikaël Appelgren, Jan-Ove Waldner and Marie Lindblad contested the singles with Erik Lindh, partnering Waldner and Lindblad, doing his share in the doubles. In line with Hungary’s football team it was a sad spectacle for the home audience to witness and not a successful comeback for Tibor Klampar. Scores:-

T. Klampar lost to G. Waldner 7, 17-14; Z. Kriston lost to M. Appelgren 18, 19-17; E. Urban lost to M. Lindblad 15-20, 9-17; Klampar/Kriston lost to Lindblad/Waldner 17-19, 17-19; Kriston/G. Szabo lost to Lindblad/Lindblad 16-19, 17-19; Klampar/K. Appelgren lost to Novo/Lindblad 17-15, 14-17; Waldner lost to Klampar 17-15.

Next away to England at the Crowtree Leisure Centre, Sunderland, in front of an appreciative audience, the Swedes had Lind hors de combat his replacement, in the doubles, being the tall blonde Ulf Carlsson - no lack of talent on the reserve bench.

Prior to, in Wroclaw, from being 3-1 up against Poland in their opening match on Sept 21 it was finally left to Douglas who, in the final set, beat Andrzej Grubba to get England home 4-3 after the Poles had fought their way back 3-3.

Prior to young Pren had lost both to Grubba and Stefan Dryszel, but had partnered Douglas to a men’s doubles success. England’s other win came in singles, by Broda and Pansky. Scores:-

A. Grubba bt Dryszel 12-19, 13; J. Szatko lost to Renverse 20-12; Grubba/L. Kucharski lost to Douglas/Pren 19-17; Dryszel/Szatko bt Douglas/Witt 18-14, 14; Dryszel bt Pren 14-19; Grubba lost to Dryszel 12-15, 12.

Meantime Yugoslavia, the defending title holders, were beating Czechoslovakia 5-2 in Pozega Slavonska where Dragutin Surbek was twice beaten, firstly by Miroslav Broda and finally, by Jindrich Pansky. Scores:-

J. Kalinic bt J. Pansky 18-19, 19-20; D. Surbek lost to M. Broda 17-16; R. Subac bt N. V. Pelikanova 17-18, 17-15; Kalinic/Surbek bt V. Broda/Pansky 17-20; Surbech/Pelikanova bt Kalinic/Witt 16-14; Kalinic bt Broda 20-18; Surbech lost to Pansky 19-17-10-10.

Next away to promotees France, in Frejus on Oct 12, the Yugoslavs were more than hard-pressed before Zoran Kalinic sealed the issue 4-3 by beating Francois Farout in the final set of a fluctuating match in which the visitors had Milivoj Karakasevic replacing Surbech. Scores:-

F. Farout bt Kalinic 18-19, 17-19; N. Danailov bt Balin 11-10; P. Broscheux/Renverse lost to Kalinic/Karakasevic 8-12; Renverse/Danailov lost to Kalinic/Balin 20-16; Renverse bt Karakasevic 19-19; Farout lost to Kalinic 17-18, 14.

In their opening match, away to Federal Germany in Landau, France had gone down by a similar score, the German successes being obtained by Georg Böhm (2 singles), Suzanne Wenzel (1 single) and Wenzel and Jurgen Rebel in the mixed doubles. Scores:-

G. Böhm bt Broscheux 14, 18, 17; S. Wenzel lost to Renverse 12-12; S. Wenzel bt M. Monteux 8-15, 14; Balin/J. Rebel lost to Broscheux/Renverse 19-17-12; Rebel/Wenzel bt Broscheux/Monteux 14-10; Böhm bt Renverse 18, 9; Wenzel lost to Broscheux 11, 19, 18.

Czechoslovakia got back to winning ways in Presov on Oct 12 when inflicting yet another heavy reverse on Hungary who were beaten 6-1 the sole win for the visitors coming in the final set when Janos Molnar beat Miroslav Broda. Klamparawas again twice beaten in singles, by Broda and Pansky. Scores:-

Pansky bt J. Molnar 6-12, 13; M. Broda bt Klampar 18-14; M. Hrachova bt Urban 12-8; J. Dvocek/Pansky bt G. Georgy/Klampar 18-19; Pansky/Hrachova bt Georgy/Urban 8-18; Pansky bt Klampar 19-13; Broda lost to Molnar 16-20.

No result sheet is to hand re the Poland/Federal German match in Katowice, played on Oct 12, but the 7-0 result in favour of the Poles is another shocker.

FRIENDLY INTERNATIONAL

Sweden brought off their second successive victory over England at Bury's Castle Leisure Centre on Oct 12 when, in a friendly meeting following the European League match in Sunderland, they followed up their 5-2 success by inflicting a 6-1 defeat on a scaled down English side.

Only Carl Prean of the team that played at Sunderland turned out at Bury and he only contested one set, the last, in which he was defeated by the European champion Mikael Appelgren.

Undoubtedly the set of the night was the one between Derbyshire's Alan Cooke and Ulf Carlson with one particular point receiving a standing ovation and well deserving of it. Carlson won the set in the end but it far surpassed that in which Graham Sandley was credited with England's sole success against Jan-Ove Waldner.

Only one of the seven sets contested went to a third and deciding game that between Lancashire's Joy Grundy and Marie Lindblad, the Swedish women's champion. Scores:

- S. Andrew lost to J-O. Waldner 16 - 16, 16 - 16;
- Mandy Sainsbury lost to M. Lindblad 17 - 17, 19 - 19;
- A. Cooke lost to U. Carlson 16 - 16, 14 - 14;
- J. Grundy lost to M. Lindblad 19 - 17, 17 - 17;
- Andrew/Cooke lost to Appelgren/Lindblad 11 - 11, 19 - 19;
- G. Sandley bt Waldner 21 - 17, 22 - 22;
- C. Prean lost to M. Appelgren 16 - 16.

Andrzej Grubba, (Poland) victor over Carl Prean in Wroclaw but subsequently beaten by Desmond Douglas.

Graham Sandley, England's only winner against Sweden at Bury.
EUROPEAN CLUB CUP OF CHAMPIONS

England’s two sides in this season’s Europe Club Cup of Champions have fallen by the wayside: Hassy Perfection Soham, after beating AO Pera-Tatavila of Greece 5-0 in Athens, going down 1-5 at home to TTC Simex Julich of Federal Germany (see Cambs report). In the women’s section EM Ellenborough conceded their away match against Varbergs BTK of Sweden who were given a walk-over. Results:

Round 1
Pellicce Canali (ITA) w.o. Lisboa E Benefica (POR);
DT Echternach (LUX) 5 KPK (FIN) 4;
Olypiacos SC (GRE) w.o. R. Smash Pantheon (BEL).

Round 2

Raiffeisen Langenlois (AUS) 5 Club de 7 a 9 (ESP) 2;
Universitatea Craiova (TCH) 5 TTV de Veluwe (HOL) 2.

Round 2
Heinzelman Reutlingen (FRG) w.o. Pellicce Canali (ITA); Stockhams Sparvagars (SWE) 5 Royal Villette (BEL).

E.T.T.U. YOUTH RANKINGS

In the Youth classification lists issued by the European Table Tennis Union on Sept 30, following on the 26th European Youth Championships in Malmo, England have four players in the junior category and two in the cadets.

Both Carl Prean, the beaten finalist in the boys’ singles in Malmo, and Lisa Bellinger, who was eliminated by Olga Nemes, the eventual winner of the girls’ singles title, are listed at No.2 and with Jan-Ove Waldner now age Prep can consider himself the No. 1 boy in Europe.

Alan Cooke, at No. 10, and Nicky Mason, at No. 20 are also included in the boys’ list with Andrew Syed, at No. 10 and Jill Powis, also at No. 10, figuring in the cadet category.

The First Asian Cup
by H. Roy Evans

Wuxi City, south of Shanghai, and situated on the shores of the beautiful Lake Taihu, with its forty-eight islands, was the venue for the first ever Asian Cup.

Thirty-two men and sixteen women were selected to play, selection of the men being by a mixed format of not more than three players from each of the top four men’s teams in the Asian Championships, two each from the fifth to eighth placed teams, the champions of the latest Asian Championships, the Arab Championships, the South East Games, the Peninsular Pentangular Tournament, the Champion of the Host Country, China, and others from the Asian Classification list. A similar format was used for the selection of the women.

The stadium accommodated 4,000 people, and it was a heart-warming sight to see all seats filled on each of the six sessions.

Except for a very small number of players whose ability was not quite up to the standard, all competitors displayed great skill and a tenacity of purpose that produced some tremendous table tennis, wildly applauded by the very volatile crowd.

Predictably, the Chinese men and women carried off most of the 30,000 US Dollars prize money, but there were some great battles for the lesser prizes. There were early upsets, ex-World Champion Seiji Ono of Japan losing two matches in his group and failing to qualify for the quarter-finals, and in the women’s groups Emiko Kanda of Japan forcing Kim Gyong Sun of North Korea into second place, and Hui So Hung of Hong Kong only getting third place in her group. With only the eight group winners qualifying for the 1 to 8 final places, such failures at an early stage had dire consequences. The seconds in the groups qualified for a play-off for 9 to 16 places, and a share in the prize money. The others only received prizes.

Sensation, too, in the knock-out for the first eight places. Hui Jun, the new Chinese National Champion, was knocked out by Japan’s No.1 Kiyoshi Saito, in a tremendous match of attack and counter attack, but Saito couldn’t maintain his form in the semi-final against Cai Zhenhua of China, although the latter had to survive a fantastic fight back by Saito from a seemingly impossible position in the fifth. Cai had an easy win over Como. Commonwealth Champion Chiu Man Kuen of Hong Kong, the latter looking in poor form.

In the other half Xie Saike, showing better form than in Tokyo, beat fellow countryman He Zhiwen, but was no match for Jiang Jieliang, to whom he lost 3-0. Jiang dropped a game to Hong Chol of North Korea in his semi-final, but won comfortably enough in the end.

The Final was a match of swaying fortune. Jiang starting well, but Cai showing greater accuracy to win in the fifth.

Saike beat Saito for third place. Chu Jong Chol of North Korea beat Japan’s Hiroyuki Abe for 9th place, with Cho Yong Ho of North Korea in 11th and Wong Lu Weng of Hong Kong in 12th place.

World Champion Cao Yankua beat ex-World Champion Tong Ling comfortably enough in the women’s final. The latter’s defence, so strong in her semi-final defeat of the new Chinese Champion Jiao Zhimin, seeming to pose Cao few real problems. Cao had an easy win over Hong Kong’s Yu Kam Kai in her semi-final. Jiao Zhimin beat Yu Kam Kai for 3rd place.

Hu So Hung of Hong Kong beat Mok Ka Sha, also of Hong Kong for 9th place, with India’s veteran Indu Puri losing to Mika Hoshino of Japan for the next two places. Altogether a most successful event, inevitably well organised by the Chinese Table Tennis Association, so successful that the Asian Union has decided to make it an annual affair, the next meeting being in India in 1984.

An interesting side-light of the Championships was that all Associations with players participating had to pay their own travel expenses, and there appears to have been no lack of Associations anxious to send players at their own expense. Accommodation provided by the Chinese was first class, the fine hotel affording plenty of opportunity for relaxation in beautiful surroundings. One black mark, a repeat of experiences in Caracas and Barbados - the new service rules. Despite assurances that all players and umpires had been well schooled in what is required of them, several of the top players were guilty of breaking the rule about the racket hand having to be above the table surface in service, and no umpire action was taken. But this feature in no way detracted from the undoubted success of the First Asian Cup.

When Dragutin Surbek - with Zoran Kalinic by his side - won the final in the men’s doubles in Tokyo, at the 37th world championships, the spectators applauded the feat turned in by Surbek, in a way seldom seen in a table tennis hall.

Surbek, one of the world’s best table tennis players, deserved this kind of reception beyond any doubt. The Yugoslav athlete ranks as a worthy opponent to the best in the sport, although his rivals are often only half as old as veteran Surbek. Of course, he has not given up competitive sport, in fact he puts off the last farewell time and again. Drawing on his immense physical strength and will-power he continues his workouts. Hard work is the secret of his successes, and of his fantastic career.

Dragutin Surbek was born in Zagreb on August 8, 1946, and similarly to many of his contemporaries, he tried his hand in various sports. He likes football and gymnastics, but under the guidance of his sports teacher he soon found himself playing table tennis. Although, as a boy, he suffered more defeats than victories, he never gave up a match, thanks to his incredible grit.

While he finished last out of 15 entrants at the junior championships of Croatia in 1960, the tournament became in a funny way a turning point in his career. From then onwards the former winners finished behind him and Surbek, thanks to well-planned training, moved up the domestic rankings. Slowly but surely, he grew more powerful and skilful, and it was not long before he won the first national title in Yugoslavia.

At the beginning he was thought to be lacking in talent, mainly because of his poor backhand shots, but time was on his side. He first entered an international open in 1963 and he made sure others took note of him. At the French Open in Lyons, Surbek faced Dick Miles, an experienced American, who among others, had beaten two one-time famous Yugoslavs, Dolinar and Harangozo.

But Miles met his match in the person of Surbek. The young Yugoslav, although lacking international routine that is so very necessary, hit the ball to Miles’ side with such force that the American ended up as a loser. Though Surbek was eliminated in the next round, his sensational victory over Miles marked his first major international success. It was precisely at the Crystal Palace of Lyons five years later that Surbek won his first ever European title.

Following his victory and the gold medal in Lyons, Surbek was praised by the famous former world champion Victor Barna in the columns of the World Sports of London under the title “Surbek the Fighter”. Barna, a reputed expert, said that of Surbek, an outstanding attacker, had surprised the whole world field with something new. Barna also praised Surbek many times as well for his chivalrous moral stand and his love of table tennis.

Surbek entered a world championship in 1965 for the first time, right in Ljubljana, his homeland. On that occasion the Yugoslav men’s team, including Surbek, took fourth place at a time when the Chinese and Japanese “masters” dominated the field. Later Surbek became one of the prominent representatives of a top European generation, among them Johansson, Bengtsson, Jonyer, Klampar, Stipancic, Orlowski etc., who held their own against the best of Asia, and won valuable successes for the old continent. Surbek was the first European to wit, capable of beating all three Chinese team members, a rare feat in itself.

Surbek came out as the top player of the world championship in the team event, and won a European title in men’s singles. He also collected a total of 31 medals at European and world championships, among them the Yugoslav, Scandinavian, Czech, Soviet and the Austrian Opens. Surbek won the Champion’s European Cup three times with his former team Vjesnik of Zagreb, while Stipancic and he, won unforgettable successes in men’s doubles. At this year’s world championships in Tokyo Surbek marked a double anniversary; he won his first major international success 20 years ago and he entered the world championships for the tenth time. If the Elo points system of chess were also used in table tennis Dragutin Surbek would undoubtedly lead the world rankings.

Despite these brilliant achievements and enhancing the reputation of Yugoslav sport, Surbek has never been elected sportsman of the year in his homeland. Yet it may be something of a satisfaction for the “Tiger of Zagreb” (he was dubbed so after his victory at the European Championships in Lyons) to have grown into a legendary player who is held in esteem by the most renowned sports authorities of the world.

There may have been better table tennis players than Surbek. There were some who won more world titles, but it is unique for someone to play table tennis on the same high level for twenty years. Rivals and generations have come and gone through the past two decades. Dragutin Surbek, however, has stood in the centre of attention at all times. He is a legend who defies his rivals and the passing of time.

Surbek, who is married with two sons, one 15, the other 6 years old, has been a “foreign worker” in the Federal Republic of Germany for the seventh year running. At present he plays in Essling, the second division of the Bundesliga, helping his team to advance to the first division.

COOL SWEDES TOO HOT FOR ENGLAND
by Robert Oldfield

Even England's best, Desmond Douglas and Carl Prean, found Sweden irrepressible at the Crowtree Leisure Centre, Sunderland on Wednesday, 12th October. A crowd of over 750 people had assembled for the second European League match of the season. They left disappointed.

Disappointed, however, only with the result, for they could not have failed to have been impressed by the skill and mobility of the Swedish players which left both Prean and Douglas stranded on more than one occasion.

If there was an omen that England's resistance would be short-lived it was provided by the pre-match National Anthem which ended prematurely.

Forty minutes later, after two men's singles, England were two nil down.

The opening set found Sweden's Jan-Ove Waldner in commanding form - obviously in no mood to allow Prean revenge for the European Youth Championships final and the recent World Cup. Douglas, however, started promisingly against Mikael Appelgren.

The World Cup and European Champion then began to pile on the pressure to England's most consistent European League player, and the Douglas backhand winners became few and far between. Appelgren won the second game comfortably and then raced to an early and decisive lead in the third.

As if convinced the first game loss was due to some technical malfunction, Appelgren spent the rest of the match with his hands covered in glue, rerubbering his bats with a frequency that turned the local league spectators green with envy.

CONSOLATION

Consolation and hope for England came from Karen Witt. Despite a niggling back injury the European No. 23 from Reading played superbly to beat Marie Lindblad. Lindblad won the first before Witt decided that her opponent's loop gave little to fear. The block seemed superfluous, on all but the most difficult occasions she just smashed the ball past the blonde Swede who is 11 places higher on the European list.

The two doubles sealed England's fate. Neither pairs, Prean/Douglas nor Douglas/Witt, looked impressive when losing in straight games. Prean then gave Appelgren a close fight before Douglas added the second set of the 2-5 defeat.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The English Table Tennis Association are pleased to thank the Borough of Sunderland and their Recreation Department for the support of this European League Super Division match. When last engaging England in the lapsed Quadrangular international matches in the Central Exhibition Hall, Belfast in February, 1968, Ireland suffered only a narrow 6-4 defeat when represented by Jimmy Langan, Tommy Caffrey, the now deceased Cliff Thompson, Joan Fitzsimmons (now Mrs. Cornelius Warren) and Miss J. Geary.

On Friday, Sept. 16, however, on its resumption, with younger exponents on view at British Aerospace Dynamics, Lostock, Nr. Bolton, it was only the two Dubliners, Colum Slevin and Anne Leonard, who put up any marked resistance to a youthful English side which triumphed 7-0.

Two wins each for Skytel Andrew and Alan Cooke and one each for Karen Witt and Joy Grundy, plus the men’s doubles, brought about the “whitewash”. On the adjacent table, Scotland ran out 5-2 winners over the Welsh whose Garry Wilkins and Nigel Thomas both got the better of John Broe.

Graham Sandley took over from Andrew in the Saturday afternoon match against Wales and both he and Cooke took two singles apiece with Andrew and Cooke again successful in the doubles with Miss Witt and Miss Grundy having easy wins over Shirley Williams (nee Cain) and Lesley Tyler.

But it was Ireland who took the eye in beating Scotland 5-2 with Slevin winning two, and the doubles with Mervyn Kelly, and Miss Leonard and Jennifer Reid successful against Diane Greig and Janet Smith, the former standing in for Carole Dalrymple nursing a broken collarbone. Kelly lost to both David Hannah and Broe.

Young Cooke was stood down from Andrew and Cooke again successful in the doubles with Miss Witt and Miss Grundy having easy wins over Shirley Williams (nee Cain) and Lesley Tyler. Junior Grand Prix to be sponsored by Beneficial Trust

SEARCH FOR A FUTURE WORLD CHAMPION BEGINS

A bid to find the successor to Johnny Leach, England’s last World Champion in 1951, was launched in London on 26th September with the announcement that Beneficial Trust are to sponsor a series of major junior table tennis tournaments, to be known as the Beneficial Trust Grand Prix.

The sponsorship, representing a £75,000 investment in table tennis by the national retail banking service, Beneficial Trust, covers an initial period of three years and begins with the Beneficial Trust English Junior Closed at Hinckley Leisure Centre in December. Other tournaments to benefit from the deal are the four County Junior Select tournaments and the English Junior Open at Portsmouth next May.

PROGRESSIVE

ETTA chairman, Tom Blunn, is delighted with the new agreement: “This sponsorship is really the most progressive we have ever been offered”, he said. “The effect of the Grand Prix will be wide-reaching and will assist the development of table tennis throughout the country.”

At each tournament in the series, junior players will have the chance to win Grand Prix points in the singles events. The ten English players accumulating the most points by the end of the season will be awarded cash bursaries which will be administered by the ETTA to help the winners with their future training and competition expenses. For a junior to visit all the major tournaments, a year’s expenses can be as much as £1,000.

“The cost of playing table tennis at the highest level is such that many juniors have to severely restrict their participation” explained Mr. Blunn. “Virtually all rely heavily on their parents financial support. This generous sponsorship by Beneficial Trust means that our best junior players will have the chance to benefit directly from the Grand Prix prize fund and I congratulate Beneficial Trust for their faith in the English junior table tennis”.

INVESTMENT

“England are fortunate in having some exceptional young players at the moment:” he continued, “but the Grand Prix sponsorship is also an investment in the future. The ETIA are confident that it will encourage the development of more players of international standard and hope, eventually, a future World Champion. We are sure that this series will be watched with great interest by other national Associations.”

It is the first time Beneficial Trust have sponsored a sport and the company’s staff have welcomed the link with table tennis. Local branch offices are to be directly involved with each event, providing vital promotional and public relations support. All the events are situated near to one of the sponsor’s many branches.

“We are used to dealing with investments in the banking industry” said managing director, Jack France, “but this investment is of a very special kind - it is an investment in talent and, what is more, in young talent. I would say to anyone asking why Beneficial Trust are entering into this sponsorship, ‘Come along to one of the tournaments, and you will soon see why we think this is a worthwhile investment’.”

SECURITY

As well as cash bursaries, the Grand Prix will provide essential security for the top junior events. The English Junior Open has been cancelled in the recent past due to lack of funds and other tournaments have faced the axe as costs have spiralled with inflation. For some the sponsorship is a lifeline and will allow the future to be planned with more certainty.

Over the three years, eighteen tournaments will benefit from cash help and essential support costs in the form of printing and promotion. The players, spectators and supporters will soon realise that a “Beneficial Trust Grand Prix Event” is something special in table tennis tournaments.

PROMOTION

A range of attractive promotional items have been produced for the series bearing the official slogan of the Grand Prix “Excellent Service with Beneficial”. T shirts, Barrel bags and Mugs will be on sale at the tournaments, with mementos provided for all the participants, including track suit badges, hats, balloons and button badges.

For each championships the ETIA and the Beneficial Trust are hoping to maximise local media coverage for the benefit of the sport, the Grand Prix and its participants. And, of course, in the English Junior Open, aspiring English juniors will have the chance to meet some of the best young players in the World. Last year, at Worthing, eleven countries took part - the ETIA are expecting an even bigger entry at the superb new Mountbatten Leisure Centre in 1984.
Tony Lambourne, marketing manager, Beneficial Trust Ltd.; Tom Blunn, chairman of the English Table Tennis Association; Norman Reeve, ETTA vice-chairman, public relations; and Jack France, managing director, Beneficial Trust Limited, toasting the success of their sponsorship agreement.

PRIX PRIZES

At the end of the season the players who have accumulated the most Grand Prix points will qualify for the Grand Prix prizes. These cash bursaries will be administered by the English Table Tennis Association and may be used towards bona-fide expenses incurred in training or competing in table tennis events.

- 1st place £400
- 2nd place £300
- 3rd place £200
- 4th place £150
- 5th place £100

Equal prize money will be awarded to the Junior Boys’ and Junior Girls’ winners.

THE POINTS SYSTEM

Players participating in the Beneficial Trust Grand Prix events will be awarded points in accordance with their progress in the junior boys’ or junior girls’ singles events at the tournaments. The following table illustrates the distribution of points in the Beneficial Trust Select tournaments:

<table>

Beyond the Isle of Wight

The summer, so often the dead season, proved an interesting time for us, taking Carl in person and us in spirit to a number of big events..... the Commonwealth, the Worlds, the Norwich Union Masters (Jamaica) and the 555 World Cup (Barbados). Seldom has Table Tennis enjoyed so much space in the Press, particularly the 'quality' papers which are more likely to be read by potential sponsors. This column does not dwell on old news no matter how stirring. Let us therefore merely record that the first Isle of Wight player to represent England in the World Championships collected the following 'scallops' in a few dicky months: Grubba (4 times), Constantin, Bisi, Kucharski, Dryszel, Nakasu, Ovcharov, Mazunov, Jonyer, Kriston, Gergely, Pederson, Cho Yang Ho, Chu Jong Chon, Ulf Bengtsson, Dvoracek, Waldner, Kim Ki Taek, Boggan and Seemiller.

We were in regular contact with Tokyo during those exciting days and many table tennis friends phoned to get the latest news on our teams' great performances and some of them who relations had chilled became friends again. We were touched by and grateful for the immense interest.

Non-stop play took its toll and Carl's form has suffered in recent weeks. He has taken some defeats, all against world-ranked players in the German Grand Prix and two European League matches. Long periods of travel, hardly any time for practice took its toll, though he played two magnificent sets in Sunderland and then in Bury against Mikael Appelgren, winner of the World Cup and reigning European Champion, who he outgunned for long spells. Only periods of inconsistency, the result of too little practice for some weeks, caused his downfall. The big target this season is the European Championships in Moscow and his training is designed so that he 'peaks' around that time.

The international matches against Sweden were great successes for Table Tennis as they produced some magnificent play if not quite the results we had perhaps hoped for. These will not come very often unless we start 'Promoter's Awards' as visualised by Alan Ransome's '1990' document here are two gentlemen who have already qualified for the club. They put their towns and their associations on the map that evening. Now keep at it, build on the interest you have created and put on at least one big show each year.

So, despite the rigours of a 940 mile journey, I returned home greatly heartened by what I saw once again at the grass roots of this game of ours. Before the international matches we paid a highly enjoyable visit to the Maccabi Youth Club in Newcastle and again we were impressed by the enthusiasm of the organisers. Mr and Mrs Henry Ross and all the youngsters who turned out in force for our visit and then the international match. We were impressed too by the excellent juniors, Damian Linskill and Darren Shaw.

Our first county match vs Cornwall ended in victory. Jim Daly and C.P. contributed five, after which it was a question of whether we would manage a 6th to give us two points. The women's doubles and men's singles (Roger Hookey) narrowly eluded us, but Jill Fothergill saw us through to the promised land of 6-4. Sympathies to our visitors who played and travelled well and were again well supported.

Whilst still on the County Champions' circuit, it was known that the Bob Bridges Plan was defeated - an imaginative document that would have breathed new life, even fire into the tired, old war horse. Mr Bridges is no wild man from the Isle of Wight whose good ideas are automatically viewed with suspicion. He is a man who has served the County Championships with distinction. Yet his fate was the same as mine. Utter 'triumph' of the status quo brigade. What the apostles of 'no change' have not yet understood is that their unbending, rigid attitude to anything new will bring about the biggest change of all when everything comes crashing down. The dinosaur too once seemed eternal, unshakable. Everything moves slowly in Table Tennis, but I see no radical change of format that creates fresh interest, that is able to compete with the National League which is more popular.

Certainly our future participation is in some doubt. Our system over-plays the lifestyle of bringing longer rallies back into the game, the same who have ruined practically all the world's best defenders as a result of the rubber rule... and there were not many to start with.

I predict too that the next World Championships will see new technical innovations from China against which the rest of the world will be as helpless as it was against the Chinese mastery of the combination bat. That began in 1975, perhaps Betteridge, accustomed to being second best, continued to sleep. In 1980 John Hilton became European Champion and the campaign began that will ruin many careers at all levels without contributing a great deal at any level. This is, alas, still a minority view. If the rule change ruins our best young players as some predict, then I ask how often our Sport will make the newspapers or the television screen and where it will go without such encouragement. I ask too where we have only heard of one league that has adopted the change. I hope they keep their members. We just managed to hold our figures, which I regard as a success. The days of growth are over - until the E.T.T.A. stimulates national interest as happened during the World Championships in Birmingham. The present cluttered-up calendar, as boring as it is full, has the opposite effect. It wears out the victims as the conveyor belt once did and many of our brightest young players are sick of the sport before they reach 30, many much sooner.

We cannot comment on the new service rule because none of us understand it. When the chairman read it out for the first time there was an embarrassed silence. The second time there were a few surprised giggles whilst one wag not versed in international matters cried out 'Is this what we pay the E.T.T.A. for?'. When the chairman read the famous words a third time, the meeting dissolved in laughter.

I do and did try to look beyond the gibberish. Indeed as the coach of an international player I have to. I think, the first to go into print about hidden services. My player adopted one mainly because so many others did and nothing was done about it. Indeed it began as a satirical gesture. His back-to-the-table-serve was always a high risk gambit as the whole table was left uncovered and it did work against certain players. Some local players got it back well, some international ones made a mess of it. Crowds loved it. In Kuala Lumpur they called for encores. In Jamaica and Barbados where they appreciate individuality there was nothing but enthusiasm. In England it got on T.V.'s Blue Peter (Audience 8 million - or, if you like, 25 times that of 'Top Table' Table Tennis). That service has now been banned. Others, more lethal continue, indeed flourish. All this from the apostles of bringing longer rallies back into the game, the same who have ruined practically all the world's best defenders as a result of the rubber rule... and there were not many to start with.

I have nothing but praise for the organisers of the matches: Ken Taylor in Sunderland and Stan Leigh in Bury. When we start 'Promoter's Awards' as visualised by Alan Ransome's '1990' document here are two gentlemen who have already qualified for the club. They put their towns and their associations on the map that evening. Now keep at it, build on the interest you have created and put on at least one big show each year....
CARL TO PLAY FULL TIME
It seems almost certain that Carl Prean, England's 16-year-old star of the last World Championships, will become a full time player from the beginning of the year. Carl, who is taking some 'O' levels in November, is likely to quit school at Christmas to concentrate on his table tennis.

In Sunderland in October for Carl's home European League debut against Sweden his father, John, said, "It's impossible for Carl to keep playing as much as he is and attempt to maintain his school studies. He may continue with some subjects, particularly German where I can help him, but he is certain to play full time after the end of this term,"

The decision has been taken by the close knit Prean family in consultation with Carl's headmaster but it represents a gamble even for Carl who is currently European ranked. "The big contracts in Germany are over," said John, "and the ETTA payments are little more than pocket money. He will have to rely on endorsements, prize money and the occasional TV appearance fee".

One thing is certain, however, the 1988 Olympics are not one of Carl's objectives. He has already earned prizes in excess of the ITTF limit which many anticipate will be the Olympic criterion of amateur status. He is determined to make a success of being a professional table tennis player. It is a route chosen only by the very talented and brave.

DESCMOND DOUGLAS JOINS BUTTERFLY

DESCMOND DOUGLAS, Britain's most successful table tennis player of modern times, has signed an endorsement contract with the world brand leader, BUTTERFLY, commencing on 1st October, 1983.

Desmond says, "It is ideal to be able to enter into a promotional arrangement with a company whose products I genuinely prefer. I have known the Butterfly people for a long time and I have complete confidence in the company's products. I am very pleased indeed with my new arrangement".

Desmond will use and endorse the Butterfly Kenny Blade, which is the blade he uses with Sriver Red rubber on one side and Sriver Black rubber on the other. Desmond will also be endorsing the Butterfly table tennis shoe.

In the New Year the Kenny Blade will carry Desmond's name, whilst a new range of Douglas rackets will be launched for the 1984/85 season for the school, youth club and hobby market.

Douglas's form so far this season has been very impressive. He has won both the West German and French Grand Prix and three out of four matches for England so far in the European Super League.
I have pleasure in showing the results of matches played in early October. Many of the individual results were fascinating and it is a pity that there is not enough space for me to share the excitement with you.

You will observe that in many cases, have been able to comment on and analyse play in certain matches; this was due to the foresight of either the Referees or the Captains of teams, who included the christian names of players on the score sheets, rather than using the traditional 'initial and surname'. Since this appears cold and unfriendly to me, in future, to discourage this from happening, I will make every possible effort to highlight matches, where the christian names of players are given.

Essex, with PAM ANKER, BRIAN PARISH, RAY MURPHY and LAURIE 'Styler' FOUNTAIN, kept matters well in hand by only losing the Men's Doubles. Berkshire's Jean Gloster, Bob Holiday, Colin Dyke and Bert Foster, did actually put up a good fight. The efficient ROBIN LOCKWOOD was the Referee.

3A... CLWYD 2 travelled to Kendal, to snatch a 5-4 victory from CUMBRIA'S Clarice Rose, Ray Carr, Peter Buxton and Charles Usher. CLWYD'S strike force consisted of BARBARA WILLIAMS, DON HOBB, RAY HOWLAND and ROY WILLIAMS. ANDREW DAWSON was the Referee.

At Bamberbridge, Preston, Lancashire's LYNDASY McEWEN, LYNN HARREDN, PHIL HUGGON, COLIN HOGARTH and MARCUS CRANKSHAW, just failed to "white-wash" Bedfordshire's Joyce Mitchell, Caroline Buckley, Neil Stanley, Peter Edwards and Dave Murgatroyd, when, in the last set EDWARDS defeated Crankshaw. The Match Referee was JACK EVANS.

LEICESTERSHIRE'S Joanne Murray, Tracey Clark, Paul Bumpus, David Aldwinckle and Marcus Bellot were contained and beaten admirably on their home ground at KNIGHTON PARK TTC by Derbyshire's LOUISE FORSTER, JOANNE WEIGHTMAN, ANDREW HENRY, PAUL HARVEY and NIGEL ADAMS. The Match referee was K. BRAMHALL.

On paper, the YORKS/CHESHIRE match ended in a draw. However, with MICHAEL O'DRISCOLL of Yorks not being a registered player, I expect a 6-4 advantage in favour of Cheshire. M. GREENWOOD was the Referee.

OAKFIELD CLUB, Rugby, was the setting where WARWICKSHIRE should have entertained CAMBRIDGE, but there must have been a misunderstanding, because they knocked the stuffing out of Cambridgeshire's Helen Smith, Louise Ward, Tim Ashman, Peter Holliday and Nick Ashman. Who, on the day, could not manage to win a set against MELANIE MCHAYLE, DAWN BROMLEY, MARK RANDLE, MICHAEL THOMAS or MARTIN CAMPBELL. Sorry! but I could not understand the signature of the Referee.

Cleveland's only success came when ANNE PASHLEY got the better of Denise Wilkinson in the penultimate set. The Referee was T. SNOWDON.

Oxfordshire finally went down 3-7 to NORTHANTS MAXINE SHEARS, DONNA FURNISS, ANDREW TROIT, RICHARD BASHFORD and ANDREW EDMONDS, after some low scoring games. Oxfordshire was represented by the young, promising, Amanda Shuffebotham, Gillian Aston, Jean-Pierre Greaves, Tommy Filmer and Dominick O'Flynn. Referee J. DENBOW officiated.

CAMBRIDGE 2nd Team was at home in ROKEWOOD NURSERIES, WISBECH, when WARWICKSHIRE'S 2nd Team paid them a visit, but made the proceedings 'a little difficult'. However, Cambridge, with SAMANTHA WALES, DENISE HINKS, NICKY RAYNER, PAUL OLDRYD and NEIL BURGESS, just pipped the visitors to the post after an exciting encounter with Tracey Green, Lisa Spilsbury, Dave Thomas, Sean Simon and V. Chauhan. CLIVE HARROD was the Referee.

BERKSHIRE 2 defeated Staffordshire 2 at Merton Hall, Newbury, where the teams met for their dust-up. Berks, with JULIE BRION, RACHEL WAITS, the talented PAUL SAVINS, KEITH HODDER and STEWART CHAMPION, just had a little more ammunition than Staffs' Angela Sanders, Dawn War- dener, Kevin Lawrence Stephen Meigh and Adrian Hough. BRIAN LATHAM, the Referee, officiated at this 7-3 victory for Berks.

HEREFORDSHIRE'S Sally Rees, Heather Tompkins, Paul Bridges, Andrew and Chris Cooke, appear to have suffered considerably at the hands of Worcestershire's HELEN JONES, LISA HUNT, DEAN KLOOS, TIM HOLDER and MARK RODEN, who gave them a good whipping. Let us hope that this young Herefordshire team can 'get it together' soon. P.J. KIMBER was the Referee.

CORNWALL 1, comprising ALISON CLEMENS, ESME STEVENSON, MARK JAMES, GRAHAM REED and ANDREW HUNT, put their Second Team in its place with a 10-0 thrashing when they met at Camborne on Sept 4. A very talented Essex 2 - GILL PATTEN, CATHERINE THOMPSON, the bubbling TONY WEST, the serious minded BERNIE LAZARUS, and the up-and-coming DAMIAN HOLLAND, sent a lot of bullets at Joanne Fletcher, Robert Warner, Robert Watt and Simon Plummer, who must all have been very relieved when their NINA WILLIAMS stopped the "white-wash" by beating Gill Patten quite comfortably.H.J. WEBB was the Match Referee.

SUFFOLK travelled to the NORMAN CENTRE, Norwich, to take on NORFOLK 2, and returned home in good spirits after a very bruising battle against Carolyn Chamberlain, Melissa Howe, the well-mannered. Neil Pickard, Stephen Fox and Lee Diggins. Suffolk, with JULIE MORTIMER, SYLVIA KENYON, PAUL GOODING, SHAUN CARACCIO and RICHARD HUTCHISION must have been very satisfied with their 6-4 score-line, especially after six sets had to go to three. The Match Referee was R. HOGG.

I regret to learn that BUCKINGHAMSHIRE TTA have had to withdraw their JUNIOR 2B team, due to the shortage of one girl-player. Forthe benefitofthe team I am wondering if it would have been better for them to play, even with this handicap: By the way, this is not a criticism I am making of Bucks, but in case a similar situation arises, it would be in good order for the County concerned to approach The County Championships Administrator - LESLIE SMITH, for guidance. I am informed by IAN WHITESIDE - The Chairman, that according to the rules, a Team must put-out 'a full side'; failure to do so could result in the County being fined. He also pointed out that, in order to keep a fixture date, and in the interest of both teams having a 'full match', well meaning and thoughtful counties would play an 'unregistered player', anticipating a snatch-back of any sets won by such a player. Again, this statement is not levelled at Bucks. What does bother me in this case is the fact that Bucks found only one Junior Girl, who wished to play in their Junior Trials. I will have to find out if there is a facility where Counties can make additional registrations, say, up to the end of November or even December.

It appears that if MICK could have won one of his singles, Suffolk might have clinched a 'draw'. The anticlimactically GEOFF WATERS was the Match 'Referee'.

HAMMOND must have played splendidly to beat Beckham and Spencer, and in partnering SEXTON in the Doubles because neither Sexton nor Harding was successful in the singles. The Match Referee was L. G. P.S. All team captains please note: Match results must be phoned through to the ETTA 24 hours answering machine service within 24 hours of matches being played. RESOUNDING SUCCESS

The first Bedfordshire County senior match held at Vauxhall Motors (Luton) against Northamptonshire resulted in a resounding success for Beds, who won 8-2. David Sharpe, Ian Doughty, Andy Conquest, Dawn Campbell and Mary Jarrett participated in a most enjoyable game.

On the other hand the juniors who travelled to Preston to play against Lancashire lost 9-1. These youngsters on their first away game of the season put up a good fight and several of the games were very close. Ten-years-old Caroline Buckley put up a fine performance. Also putting on a good show were Neil Stanley, Peter Edwards, David Murgatroyd and Joyce Mitchell. It was left to Peter Edwards to enjoy an enjoyable game.

The dates for the County Closed Tournaments are Nov 27, 1983 - Senior Closed and Jan 22, 1984 - Junior Closed. Both events will take place at Bedford Trucks (Dunstable).

National League
The debut of Dunstable & AHW Club’s venture in the National League resulted in them being thrashed 1-7 by Tulse Hill Rams.

The Crystal Palace side showed all the class associated with a team containing three England-ranked players, adapting immediately to the very fast conditions of the Pioneer Boys’ Club in Dunstable.

Sharpe tried hard to stem the tide in his second set losing 21-23 to the visitor’s top player Des Chartery in the third.

Doughty capitalised on the revival winning his second set easily against Andrew Dodd, displaying a tremendous range of shots.

Gary Hamilton and Bob Harman completed the team.

The next match away to Jaques Fareham 11, although fought well, resulted in Dunstable & AHW losing 3-5 after being 3-0 up.

A 4-4 draw was obtained in the match against Cippenham (Slough).

The second home match against Ashford (Middlesex) started off well with Sharpe winning the first set for Dunstable & AHW. Although the sets were fought well, the score of 1-7 against them was nothing to be ashamed of. Fine efforts were made by Doughty, Hamilton and David Cartwright against the Middlesex team of Mike Hammond, Peter Simmonds, Rupert Bole and Steve Everard.

Luton League
Eighty-two teams with a total of 398 players have now registered in the Luton League making up seven divisions.

At the last Luton A.G.M. the retiring Treasurer, Paul Denton, was elected a Vice-President.

The Luton League Senior Closed will take place on Sunday Feb 5, 1984 at Bedford Trucks (Dunstable).

The same venue has been arranged for the Junior Closed on Sunday, Feb 19, 1984.

Luton was invaded last weekend when the town played host to the Round Tables of Great Britain and Ireland.

About 800 Tablers between the ages of 20 and 40 were participating in nine sporting events at various venues.

The Luton Regional Sports Centre was the venue for the preliminary rounds of a Table-Tennis Tournament held on Saturday Oct 8, 1983.

The Luton Secretary was approached by this organisation to provide officials for the semi-finals and final held on Oct 9 at Putteridge Sports Centre, Luton.

The winner was Peter Dunstan from Devon.

To conclude we welcome back sisters Jackie and Lisa Bellinger who have been training at the Butterfly DOHJO centre in Tokyo.

Whilst I think they may have picked up one or two words of Japanese their main problem there was trying to find someone who spoke English.

BERKSHIRE
BRIGHT START

The senior 1st team got the county season off to a bright start by beating Wilts. Perhaps it is a little too early to start counting our medals but with the talent at our disposal the team must have every chance of promotion. The 2nd team drew with Wilts 2 thanks to a useful performance from Jonathan Samuel who was recalled to the squad and took his chance well.

The junior 2nd team found Staffs 2 too strong but the improving Paul Savins was again impressive with two wins.

Essex veterans routed both our 1st and 2nd teams in no uncertain fashion. Last season’s euphoria is a thing of the past and the 1st team are going to find life in the Premier Division very difficult indeed.

The local National League side Gillette-Reading have made a poor start to the season. The opening fixtures provided tough opposition all round and this, coupled with injuries and other circumstances, have left the three Gillette teams with a desperate anti-relegation battle on their hands. The format of presenting three matches all together has been popular with both players and spectators. Presentation has been good and some excellent play has been witnessed. The one big niggle seems to be the apathetic attitude of local league players - surely they could spare a few Sundays to watch table tennis of the highest class. The club is averaging over 100 spectators per match but need very much more support to break even. The local radio and press coverage has been very good, but it seems quite impossible to attract the really big crowds that the game so urgently needs.

Full marks to the Claw Scaffolding Company who have provided financial backing for the Kidmore End Club in the Reading League. In the past few seasons the club have brought a number of highly talented youngsters to the fore. Berkshire Champion Simon Rowland and the reigning Reading Men’s Senior Champion Michael Childs both owe much of their success to the club. Jimmy Stokes is another who is progressing rapidly up the ladder at international level. Jenny Collins is another who has achieved an England ranking. While these players have now moved on to new clubs, Jim Stokes Sen. now has a new crop of young players of whom much is expected. It was anticipated that results in Reading’s top division would take some time in coming but already Graham Kemp has achieved an excellent trio of wins in one match, including the scalp of the Berkshire Champion. I believe we are going to hear more of this young man and also his rather promising team mates Keith Hodder,
CAMBRIANSHIRE PROMISING START

The County made a promising start in the County Championships winning three of their five matches played.

The senior first team expected a tough match against promoted Suffolk in Div 2A and so it proved, just getting home 6-4. Mick Harper was missing from the Camb, line-up, having contracted a virus that prevented him from walking and spending some time in Stevenage Hospital. Happily, Mick is now playing again although he is still far from match fit. Luckily Camb, were able to welcome back Geoff Davies after a year's absence and he showed him is none the worse for his lay-off by winning his opening singles against Mick Palmer. Keith Richardson was also a winner against Stuart Palmer, but not surprisingly Andy Withers went down against John Kitchener. Cambridge’s 2-1 lead soon evaporated. He had good support when Suffolk took both doubles but Withers levelled the scores with a singles win over Mick Palmer.

Joanne Palmer totally eclipsed Sue Welham and Richardson had a magnificent 16,16 win over Kitchener to assure a point. Mandy Judd met Julie Dowsett, unbeaten in Div 3 last season, and after sharing the first two games, Mandy led 18-12 in the third. Julie fought back to 19-19 to give home county supporters a fright, but the Cambridge girl took the next two points to earn Cambs. a winning lead. The second team won their first match for nearly two years by completing a 6-4 double over Suffolk at Ipswich.

This was a good team effort with every player winning at least one set and 6-2 being deservcd. Martin Livermore, Julian Wheel and Trevor Smith each won singles, while Hilary Finch and Alison Edge scored from the Camb’s line-up. The title was their third since winning the Cambridgeshire 1st, and a better team effort.

CORRECTION - In last month’s issue, I mentioned that Andy Withers was the only player to win matches for Haverhill in last season’s NCL League. This was in fact not true as David Miller won two and Yvonne Driver. My apologies to these two players for not crediting them with these wins.

CHESHIRE JUNIOR RANKING TRIALS

Cheshire’s junior ranking trials were held at Crewe and produced some very unexpected results and, no doubt, left some players very disappointed on the day.

In the absence of Billy Gleave the top position was wide open but after many hard-fought sets it was Keith Weatherby, who just pipped Simon Jones, to come out on top. Stephen Lyrnycyk worked hard all day and deserved his third spot. The trials were once again organised by Karen Tonge, and as usual they went without a hitch.
Mike Freeman sends out a plea for help in running the County Junior teams. Anyone interested and ready to give a helping hand please contact Mike at 24 Parkfield Drive, Whitby.

With so many players fighting for a place the only selection problem was to decide when to give them their opportunity. What a nice problem for a captain to have!

The Derbyshire senior team made a disappointing start to the season when they suffered a 3-7 defeat at the hands of Staffordshire. To Thuy Dung and Marilyn O'Sullivan won their singles, and Stephen Yallop won one of his singles for Derbyshire's only successes. Captain Philip Vickers felt that the presence of Alan Cooke could have turned the match Derbyshire's way, but we must accept that Alan's availability cannot always be guaranteed and build a team accordingly.

Congratulations to Alan upon his success for England in the Home International Tournament. He has already received further senior International selection which will be played prior to this being published. Here's hoping he has done well.

The retirement has been announced of the former Derbyshire Junior and Men's Singles Champion, Tony Bird, who having reached the age of 50 this year, suffered a heart attack during the Summer. Tony was a member of the Doverside team which won the Britannia Cup in the Burton League this past season (see May Table Tennis News), and had retained his form and consistency for over 35 years.

Fred Moody says "I remember Tony as one of the youngsters who had a beautiful style and fluency combined with enough intelligence to take advantage of these natural gifts. So many who are so blessed, waste them by lacking control and understanding how to use them."

"Tony's ability was combined with a becoming modesty - a sure sign of a confident, capable player. When one is genuinely good, there is no need to remind people about it."

"Although a naturally aggressive player, Tony has a consistent pleasant manner and is one of those people one is always pleased to meet, long may he continue to grace T.T. environs."

I think that we would all agree with Fred that table tennis needs the likes of Tony Bird, and we all hope that he will continue to grace table tennis gatherings, even if he cannot longer grace the table.

In the Burton Summer League, Drakenlow Div 2 (eight divisions) with nine victories and one draw; with Central Ladies winning Division Two (8 wins and 2 draws).

The Burton League's Annual Dinner was a success with over 250 attending, and next year's Dinner (mark your diaries for May 11th), will be the League 250th and it is hoped to organise something special! What do they mean?

As part of the Burton winning with Lingen in Federal Germany, a party of Officials visited Lingen, and although not having a successful time on the table, Ian Knight's the exception, had an enjoyable and hectic time. A return visit of the Germans to Burton is being arranged next year (to sample the local, brew?). A debt of gratitude has been expressed to Granville Schools German teacher Danny Kret who helped make a memorable trip with his navigation and interpreting.

The Burton League will consist of 54 teams in 5 Divisions this season and we welcome four new Clubs - Uttoxeter, Airwaves Boys' Brigade, George St Club and Linton.

A Coaching course for boys, girls, beginners or league players is taking place at Hill Street P.E. Centre, Stapenhill every Sunday 2-5 p.m. and Monday evening 7-9 p.m.

The Centre is also looking for persons interested in becoming coaches or umpires. The Centre offers the use of 8 tables and up to 6 coaches.

Stephen Yallop led St Andrew's 1st to an exciting victory over Mechanics 1st in the Premier Division of the Derby League, to raise St Andrew's hopes of retaining the title whilst denting Mechanics' hopes and this could lead to a more open Championship than I envisaged before the season started - although I cannot see the title ending up with any of the other Clubs!

Derby Y.M.C.A. are competing in the Eastwood League,- in addition to five teams in the Derby League, to give more competitive experience to the youngsters. Having played in the first match against Neville EMV at Sutton-in-Asfield, I was pleased the sporting spirit and attitude of the Neville's team of Clive Spate, Steve Spencer and Doug Haywood which contributed to a very enjoyable match.

Having played for over 20 years in the Derby League, and played the same players many times I was refreshing to see some new faces, and I look forward keenly to further matches. May I advise other players seeking a new challenge to join another League - no matter where you are, there's another League not far away, who knows, it may revitalise your game.

The Derby League has increased membership this season with over 100 teams in eight divisions; whilst plans are going ahead for the new Headquarters which is expected to be ready for the start of next season. The extra facilities could produce a flood of new teams as, if past experience has shown, teams with no playing quarters appear together with additional players from Clubs outside the playing area of the League who use the Headquarters as their playing base.

ESSEX

CREDIT NOT CASTIGATE

Let me begin by making good some of the omissions from my October notes. First my congratulations to Lisa Hayden on winning her first 'Open' Women's Singles title at Tulise Hill. Her semifinal victory over the in-form Juliet Houghton was particularly satisfying. As a further footnote to that tournament I couldn't agree with Murray Corbin's accusation that Kent's Carl Ball didn't really try against his county colleague, Chris Bartram, in the Boys' final. I felt he was simply outclassed and would credit Chris, not castigate Carl.

The next missing item was the much-coveted Corti Woodcock Memorial Award. Clive Oakman is the worthy winner for 1982/83. He has been an indefatigable servant of the Essex Association in recent years; a brilliant tournament organiser and secretary, and an extremely efficient treasurer.

The third lapse concerns Stuart Gibbs, who was clearly overcome, at the time of writing, to receive the Harry Walker Memorial Trophy as the players' "player of the year". Stuart had a fine season for Dagenham F.C. in the National League, steered Basildon to trials winners were Tanya and Damian Carswell. And was an inspiring county captain. All ranking trials have now been completed and the top tens are:

Boys
1. R. Darnell (Bre) 2. S. Dorking (Bra) 3. S. Tilson (Ch) 4. N. Sweeting (I) 5. S. Laosan (Oag) 6. J. Holland (Huntingdon) 7. B. Cole (Bre) 8. S. Woods (S'end) 9. S. Wayland (Dw)

Girls
1. E. Sayer (Oag) 2. L. Haydon (Bre) 3. K. Mudge (Ch) 4. Y. Brown (Bas) 5. J. Askem (Oag) 6. K. Hayden (Ch) 7. A. Elder (Ch) 8. J. Smith (Ha) 9. A. Barker (Dw)

Biggest surprise among the men is the low placing of Tony Penny. He missed the trials but was in the first team last term. On the distaff side, Kim Haydon has shown good early season form and moves up to sixth. Unfortunately, she has suffered another injury to her troublesome right wrist which will keep her out of action for some time.

Richard Darnell gains the No. 1 spot in the boys after dropping only one set at the trials, to Steve Tilson. Tony West, my tip for fast progress, rises to No. 5. Steve Dorking, reigning Junior 'Closed' champion, is No. 2. David Cole and Simon Woods showed big improvements on last season to take spots 8 and 9, respectively.

Ladies stays No. 1 though losing to unbeaten Tanya Holland at the trials. So Brentwood now have the No.1 girl and boy, which must bring another smile to the face of Graham Moon, dean of Brentwood T.T.C. Swiftest girl climber is Catherine Thompson of Braintree, now playing with more self-confidence but, like most of the girls, needing to attack much more. Cadet lists are not issued yet but comfortable trials winners were Tanya and Damien Holland.

The Veteran Men's trials were somewhat inconclusive in the absence of "Stan the Bat!" Fred Lockwood and Brian Parrish. Laurie Fountain had a good day, losing only to Ray Murray. Shirley Carroll of Chelmsford won the Women's section.

Although the GLC areas are excluded, the Essex Games, on Sept 11, produced a fine competition between teams from 14 boroughs. The final was contested by Brentwood, the hosts, and Basildon, the holders. With the teams level 2-2, Dave Bunting (Bas) faced Peter Hayden. It seemed curtains for the hosts when Dave led 17-13 in the third, then, however, raising his game in the crisis, to win at 25-23. Each team comprises a junior boy, a junior girl, a man, a woman, and a veteran. Each plays one set. As the Basildon vet I was choked!

The first County Championships day saw us off to a promising start; six of our seven teams were winners. Our first and second veterans' teams beat Berks. I and II respectively, both by 8-1. Junior I overwhelmed Dorset I by 9-1; Darnell celebrated his No. 1 slot with a resounding win over England No. 17, Rodney Thomas. Junior II beat Sussex II by the same score; Damien Holland and Catherine Thompson were unbeaten on their debuts. In the same division, Junior III lost 3-7 to a ful Kent II. All five Essex players in this match - David Cole, Simon Woods, James Griffiths, Sara George and Kay Mudge - were making debuts. Cole did well to beat Ball and Woods to defeat at last. Kent II seem likely to challenge our second team for the divisional title.

Senior II beat Sussex 6-4, despite two defeats for our No. 1 Les Eadie. Steve Dorking turned up trumps in his second match of the day, winning two in fine style. Senior III, also in Div. 3 (d), travelled well to beat Herts 7-3. John Dennison was in brilliant form, taking a maximum.

On the 'Open' scene our most recent success is Ray Murray's victory in the Veterans' Singles final at the Stanmore Sussex 2-Star. He overcame Norton (Hunts) in straight games. He also had excellent wins over second seed, Peter D'Arcy and Stan Battrick (semi). This was Ray's first 'Open' success for a couple of years and should send him galloping up Mike Watts' unofficial ranking list to about 6 or 7 in England. The flashing backhand looked as good as ever. Kenny Jackson reached the Men's singles semi-final, losing to the eventual winner, Graham Standley. Tony Penny didn't survive his group but recorded a good win over Staffs No.1, Bellingham.

Meanwhile in the National League Div 2 (S) Dagenham F.C. have made an excellent start and are now going to become all-out hitters, like me!

Let me leave you with a riddle. What is heavy, dusky and elliptical and seen only at high class table tennis competitions in England? (No, alas, it's not the voluptuous slopes of Diana Ross).

GLOUCESTERSHIRE

BACK ON COURSE

Cheltenham have re-claimed a whole division they lost last season whilst Stroud and Gloucester remain static, five divisions in Stroud and seven in the City.

Cheltenham have for many years hit upon a marvellous idea. On the front page of their hand-book there is a mark which is quoted as being 6" from the bottom. It is used for guidelines as to the height of the net. Cheltenham? Members, 'Players and Administrators Please: Note, Onmy copy of the hand-book the mark is 2/1 Oth in, excess of six inches, I suggest you all check your respective hand-books to see if the same mistake is relevant.

I am pleased to be able to say that Stroud have formulated their own newsheet, presumably for internal distribution. Cheltenham have long had Net & Edge, and Gloucester now have Bat-Chat, so I think this season Stroud's organisers of this welcome venture, Dave Pobjoy, T.T.N. I am now firmly of the opinion that the straight-jacket that has housed the handbook somewhere or other. Cheltenham have long had ample coverage. I know for a fact that players and the response from them has been simply magnificent. So, without hesitation, I think this season will see the start of a new competition for the leading players (who have availed themselves). All fixtures will be played on Friday nights with all teams playing one fixture per evening at one venue.

Once the pool of players from the three Associations has been finalised players will be divided into three groups, and teams will be formed by drawing one name from each group - top, middle and bottom. It is quite possible that players who play in the same team one week, will play against each other in the C.P.I. And finally this new venture will give people the opportunity to see the leading players in the County in competitive match play.

Another interesting project that I mentioned in last month's T.T.N. was the start of work on the foundations of the Rudford & Highleads T.T. Club's new playing Headquarters, next to the Village Hall. Few clubs in the Country are lucky enough to have their own building for table tennis only, and it is credit due to the club's Committee that at last something positive has emerged.

Rudford's hard-working Secretary, Stenneth Salisbury, informs me that the builders' work is finished and now the members themselves will be expected to apply the finishing touches. I understand that a very high ranking ETA Official has been approached to perform the opening ceremony some time next year and that the aforesaid person has accepted. More news anon.

I was both honoured and delighted when local Independent Radio Severn-Sound asked me to do a review on the air of Jill and Donald Parker's excellent new book, TOP-CLASS TABLE TENNIS. And Mr. Editor may I, through the medium of these columns, say what an excellent manual it is. I thoroughly recommend it as an essential for all table tennis enthusiasts. If you haven't already, GO BUY IT!

Although I have not mentioned this in Surrey over to Michael Green, I was pleased to note that Murray Corbin (table tennis Columnist extraordinary) is still continuing to write freelance, and long may he continue to do so.

I also noted a nice little letter from Barry Granger, a County Umpire, who officiated at the English Schools International in Gloucester last July. Yes Barry your remarks noted, it was a bit hot in the leisure Centre. Mind you, it was a hot summer? Just think how much hotter it would have been if, as you so rightly say, all those non-playing personnel had turned up, and furthermore:- What about all those MANY players actually affiliated to the Gloucester, Stroud and Cheltenham Leagues, WHO COULD NOT BOTHER TO TURN UP AT ALL?!

John Moss, Cheltenham's Summer league Secretary, provided me with a very entertaining interview on local Independent radio in mid-October. John is shortly taking up residence in Stroud and I wonder if he will be able to get a summer league going there, no reason why not.

COUNTY NEWS

It was very disappointing for our Juniors to have their first match of the season cancelled. They were to have played Sussex in Gloucester, but unfortunately Sussex could not provide a team. However, a week later, the Juniors were well rewarded with a highly successful win over Glamorgan. The team responsible comprised:- Aaroon Beckett, David Smith, Craige Saunders, Jenny Ellery and Carole Slack. Craige and Carole both making their County debuts.

Our Seniors, (no date of writing) have only played one match so far, that was versus Northamptonshire at Kingsthorpe. I'm delighted to report that we won 8-2. The team being:- Paul Jackson, Darren Griffin, Sylvester Callum, Christine lacopi and Cathy Robb.

England trials (Juniors) at Cleveland in late October. Gloucester (City) have no girls in it? Gloucester (City) have no Cadet girls in it either? But happy I am to report that the City do have two boys participating they are:- Aaroon Beckett and David Smith.

In the Cadet boys South-West Region trials, Gloucestershire had three boys in the first team - namely, the Saunders from lydney, who plays in the City league, and two Stroud boys Howard Williams and Neil Gingell, Well done young Sirs!!

the second string juniors and seniors, being withdrawn from the County Championships for this season. Some coaches were unhappy about being a retrograde step, but teams can only be run if you have the players to fill them and officials to run them. In Hampshire we are not over endowed with either at the moment. I was sad to hear that Dennis Knellor has been forced to quit the job as secretary, and he is respected both by players and fellow officials alike. I do hope his health improves shortly to enable him to renew old friendships. There is just enough people around like Dennis these days!

Into the breach at short notice came the county president Ray Yates, who has now retired from business, and has taken over Dennis's job for the season. I understand Ray's fingers are taking most of the strain as he is typing all his letters himself. Lack of help for Ray in running the county teams has been a problem despite having only four teams to worry about. Keir Donaldson has agreed to take over the senior team and despite his many other commitments the new county coaching officer Peter Thorne has been coerced into running the junior team. As usual least problems from the two veteran teams, which almost run themselves!

Despite having only one senior team, one would have hoped of players falling over themselves to represent the county in the first match. You had to go down to the number eight ranked player to fill the team! The result, 9-1 win over Dorset II. Derek Holman lost the only set to Jonathan Crewey and Chris Shetler won two, as did Nigel Maguire making his debut. Jill Green also made a successful first appearance winning her singles and combining with Barbara Clark to win the doubles. The junior match against Somerset was brought forward and the result was a 2-8 defeat with Sarah Hammond and Christos Hannides each winning a singles. This match really stretched Peter Thorne's loyalties to its limit - Southampton were at home to Manchester United that day! The following match against Avon II was an 8-2 win with Andrew Davies winning both and Alan Charles and Hannides one each of the singles. Sarah Hammond and Caroline Jenvey won all the girls' events. Two close matches for the veterans with the A team winning 5-4 and the B losing 4-5. Norman Stagg newly promoted to county, lost both his singles while Ray Lush won two, and Ged Holley one.

Mary Clegg won her singles and combined with Lush to win the mixed, in the A match with Middlesex!. In the B team match with Wiltshire II John Harvey won two and Ron Powell one of the singles while Ann Abrahams combined with Harvey to win the mixed.

Absentees for a variety of reasons from the trials, and also from the county scene this season, despite being ranked No. 1 Senior, Sarah Hammond looks likely to play most of her county table-tennis at junior level this season. Firstly she is needed in the junior team with the dearth of girls, and also, I understand, wins at junior level count for the junior computer rankings and not senior wins! Strange situation that! The rankings published by the county team management and selection committee for everyone to pick holes in, without knowing all the facts behind them are:

Talking about disagreeing with selection committees, I was a little disappointed that Sarah Hammond was not picked for the European Junior event after her marvellous progress at the end of last season. Wins in 'Select' tournaments and over her main cadet rivals Jill Powis and Debbie Soothill must have weighed heavily in the very close selection. Still up to No. 11 in the juniors is not bad from nowhere in one year, and she's already beaten me this season, so must still be improving!

A good start for Jaques Generation in their first season in the premier division of the National League with a 7-1 win over Gillette Reading, but then down to earth with three defeats. What excellent table tennis has been produced by this Fareham-based team in their two home games! A win over Gillette did not really do justice to the visitors with David Barr taking Carl Pearn close and beating Ian Kenyon.

Without Pearn for the prestigious visit of Thorn EMI Ellensborou9h, Jaques were within a point of a draw. Kenyon pulled back from 16-20 in the third to lead 21-20 and sporting acknowledgments that a faint touch was side and not edge to allow Colin Wilson to draw level at 22-22 and then win the next two points, and give his team a winning lead. The 3-5 defeat however shows that Generation are not just Pearn. I was particularly impressed in both these games by Alan Cooke - not only his ability but his temperament. He'll go far- certainly a lot higher than his current senior No. 22 ranking.

On the subject of predictions, two years ago I was told I had gone "over the top" in my prediction that Pearn would follow Desmond Douglas into the England rankings. I will admit it has happened quicker than I thought but look who's No.1 in the England senior rankings! I am glad to see Carl is now getting the publicity and credit he deserves. He is not just a "funny bat" player. He has far more than that. In a way I wonder if this bat has been a hindrance rather than a benefit in getting the recognition of being potentially the best player this country had produced.

Finally, some dates for your diary:

- Nov 27 - Hampshire Senior Closed
- Dec 18 - Junior intertown block matches
- Jan 15 - Hampshire Junior Closed
- Mar 11 - Junior intertown block matches

All these events will be played at Redbridge Sports Centre, Southamp-ton.

Ian Kenyon and Andrew Cunningham, for Bromley, and the Dodd brothers for Woolwich are their possible stars.

Both Spencer and Chris Bartram reached the last 16 in the Stamford-Sussex Open. Graham Sandleys. Chris beat Avon's Andy Creed and only lost to Dave Wills 20 in the third - how disappointing after being 16-8 up. But, that's the name of the game!! I hear that David Dodd's set against Richard Jerrym was 17-15. The following day he steered the show 23-21, 24-22. He lost to Kenny Jackson. 15, 14-9. 11. Carol Spain reached the women's quarters losing to Karen Witt but beating Teresa Moore and Mandy Reeves on the way - a fine achievement.

DISAPPOINTING RESULT

The county opened their season with two defeats, one expected, one rather disappointing. The expected result was the Veterans' 9-0 trouncing by champions Cheshire in what was Leicestershire's first experience of Premier tea. The disappointing result was very sharp to win both his singles against Andrew Sexton and David Harding, the latter 22-20 in the third overcoming a 5-15 deficit! Gareth Spencer and Richard-Beckham (both Beckenham) got one each but Karen May and Jill Farthing (both NWK) were unable to help. Surrey II won 6-2.

Away to Essex II on Oct 1, Kent Junior II won 7-3 with Levett having an encouraging debut beating J. Griffiths 18 and 12 and S. Woods 16, 19, 18. Williams lost to Woods but beat D. Cole, whilst Ball lost to Cole but beat Griffiths 2-straight. Susan Brame and Tracy Ashdown were successful in both singles and doubles.

KENT LEAGUE

Two innovations this season are central venues for the top divisions, both men and women, and the placement of each team entered based on its player strength. The men's section shows an increase of three teams over last season and the 31 teams have been spread over 3 divisions of 8 and one of 7. The women have a one team increase so the 12 teams make a neat division of six in each. The veterans also have another team, so the 20 teams are arranged into a strong 8-team 1st division and two divisions of 6.

In the Junior section, the concentration of strength has made life difficult. Nearly 20 players from last season are now over-age and the reduction of 7 teams reflects this. The 27 teams have been formed into a 6-team 1st division, 8 teams in Div. 2, 7 in 3 East and 6 in 3 West.

The first thing I must report is that tennis, we have decided not to run a financial difficulties, we will be interested to know the reaction of the teams as well as our Senior and Junior events. Let's hope that the players will improve on last season and win their programme but we are hoping to satisfy the players with a long journey to Wales, but the result made the trip well worthwhile. Jones was undefeated as was Porter, but Millman lost both of his singles. Keith Fitzsimmons won two for the opposition.

The County Closed which was due to be held on Sat. Nov 26, has been moved on a week due to a clash with the County Championships weekend. It will now be held on Saturday, Dec 3, 1983, at Kettering. A high entry is expected.

The National League side Playrite Northampton, has had a good start to the season. They won 6-2 and 7-1 in their opening matches against MBS St. Neots II and Hales Crusaders Lincoln respectively. Both were at home and an audience of around 50 or so attended on each occasion, which was under the expectations of the venue organisers, but if the results continue to be as good, hopes that the crowd will grow are not unfounded. The side look to be one of the main contenders for the Division 3 (East) title in their debut season.

NORTHANTS DISAPPOINTING START

The County’s senior teams had a disappointing start to the season, both going down 8-2. The first team, playing away at Luton, against Bedfordshire, have Graeme McKim to thank for their only men’s singles win when he beat Ian Doughty in the opening set. The other point was won by the women’s doubles pair of Glennis Hooper and Dusty Marsh. They beat the Beds. pair of Campbell and Jarrett. However, neither they, nor the other men, Ian Hawes and Brian Wooding could record a singles victory.

And to think that I remember some of the Veterans when they were juniors!

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE GREAT START

The Northampton senior County team got off to a great start on Oct. 1 with an emphatic 8-2 win over Clwyd at Byker Community Centre. Neil McMaster, Clare Mouzon and Caron Buglass were all unbeaten, while Peter McQueen and Ian Robertson each won a singles and also combined to take the men’s doubles. Both players lost to the spectacular defence of Trevor Manning, the only Clwyd player to offer any real resistance.

| Scores: | Northamptonshire 8 Clwyd 2 | P. McQueen lost to T. Manning -8, -15; bt T. Turner 11, 18; l. Robertson lost to Manning -19, -19; bt J. Hook 11, -15, 16. |

NORTHUMBERLAND

The Northumberland senior County team took the Arts and Recreation Committee of the Greater London Council, the Middlesex 3-Star Championships will take place. Mind you, at the moment, I have not yet received anything in writing but we have decided to go ahead on the strength of verbal assurance that help will be forthcoming. By the time you see this article, entry forms will have been issued to all players who entered in the last 3 years, but if you have not received a copy and want to enter, you are,”meant, of course, that we have even less money available from last 3 years, but if you have not received a copy and want to enter, you are”, “offer any real resistance. The other Northants No.1, was outstanding in the Junior game, with good support from Richard Bashford and Andrew Edmonds. The girls, Maxine Shears and Donna Fumiss, played well but couldn’t take a game from the Oxon pair of Aston and Shuffelbottom. The whole squad, however, must have gained a lot of confidence from gaining enough support, and although they lack experience, they will improve as the games and season continues. Veterans Keith Jones, Dave Marsh, Dennis Millman and Joyce Porter had a long journey to Wales, but the result made the trip well worthwhile. Jones was undefeated as was Porter, but Millman lost both of his singles. Keith Fitzsimmons won two for the opposition.

The County Closed which was due to be held on Sat. Nov 26, has been moved on a week due to a clash with the County Championships weekend. It will now be held on Saturday, Dec 3, 1983, at Kettering. A high entry is expected.

The National League side Playrite Northampton, has had a good start to the season. They won 6-2 and 7-1 in their opening matches against MBS St. Neots II and Hales Crusaders Lincoln respectively. Both were at home and an audience of around 50 or so attended on each occasion, which was under the expectations of the venue organisers, but if the results continue to be as good, hopes that the crowd will grow are not unfounded. The side look to be one of the main contenders for the Division 3 (East) title in their debut season.

| Scores: | Northamptonshire 8 Clwyd 2 | P. McQueen lost to T. Manning -8, -15; bt T. Turner 11, 18; l. Robertson lost to Manning -19, -19; bt J. Hook 11, -15, 16. |

NORTHUMBERLAND

The Northumberland senior County team got off to a great start on Oct. 1 with an emphatic 8-2 win over Clwyd at Byker Community Centre. Neil McMaster, Clare Mouzon and Caron Buglass were all unbeaten, while Peter McQueen and Ian Robertson each won a singles and also combined to take the men’s doubles. Both players lost to the spectacular defence of Trevor Manning, the only Clwyd player to offer any real resistance.

| Scores: | Northamptonshire 8 Clwyd 2 | P. McQueen lost to T. Manning -8, -15; bt T. Turner 11, 18; l. Robertson lost to Manning -19, -19; bt J. Hook 11, -15, 16. |
McQueen/Robertson bt Manning/Hook 17-16.

Clare Mouzon bt Sue Roberts 18, 19.

Caron Buglass bt Karen Bukle 15, 16.

Mouzon/Buglass bt Roberts/Bukle 9-18,15.

The junior team travelled to meet Cleveland 1 on the same day, and came back as 9-1 winners, with Peter Curry, Keith Patterson, Thomas Blackman and Denise Campbell all unbeaten. Denise Wilkinson lost the one set in to top girls’ singles.

The senior team then followed with an excellent 6-4 victory over Leicestersshire II on Oct. 15, which was all the more noteworthy as McQueen was not available. Clare and Caron were again unbeaten in singles and doubles, Robertson won both his singles, and McMaster one. After such a good start, the seniors must be hoping that this will be the launching pad that will take them back to the higher divisions, having been relegated from the Premier to Div. 3A in successive seasons.

The County ranking lists for the new season were to have been published in this issue of “Table Tennis News”. However, since the first rankings were actually issued, it has come to our notice that Chu Van Que no longer wishes to be considered for County play, and Andrew Clark may not be available on a regular basis. In view of this the ranking committee are to issue a further men’s list, and in case of any other changes, the latest rankings will be published in the December issue.

Halex National league success still eludes Byker Newcastle. They crashed to yet another defeat, this time by 0-8 at the hands of Tarmac Wolverhampton, who were led by England international Douggie Johnson. In their next match, they fared only marginally better when they lost 1-7 to Ormesby II, Nigel Jobling getting the one set with a victory over Kevin Green. However, the second team of Neil McMaster, Eddie Smith, Peter Curry and Martin Moore all gained maximums, when they beat Unity III 8-0 at Byker.

It appears that Chu Van Que has also played his last game for the Newcastle National League side, and he is expected to be transferred to South Yorkshire in the near future. This is a great pity, but at least it gives an opportunity for the younger players to be tried out at this level of competition.

International table tennis came to the North-East for the first time in many years on Oct. 12, when England entertained at Crowtree Leisure Centre, Sunderland. Even though England eventually lost 2-5, those who were present at least had the opportunity to experience a high standard of match play, and an opportunity to see England’s leading ranked players in action against top class opposition.

Finally, our leading junior boy Eddie Smith is to be congratulated on doing so well in the recent area ranking trials at Ormesby by finishing second in his event.

SHROPSHIRE INTER CLUB LEAGUE

The newly-formed Shropshire Inter Club League (which replaces the old County League) looks like being a closely fought contest between the three most progressive areas in the County, with a strong entry having been received from Oswestry, Pontesbury and the Grove of Market Drayton.

The small number of teams entering from Telford and Shrewsbury is disappointing, however hope springs eternal and we can only look forward to greater participation from these areas in the future.

Three Divisions are being contested, with ten teams in each Division, sponsored as follows:

Div. 1 - Shropshire Star
Div. 2 - B.J.M. Heating
Div. 3 - Kayvale Finance

SEALINK SPONSORSHIP

The monthly graded singles tournaments received a major boost with Sealink U.K. Ltd., Britain’s largest car ferry operator sponsoring a top twelve tournament on Sunday, 20th May, 1984.

The qualifiers will be the highest ranked players at the end of the season, with a prize to the value of £300 for the winner, in the form of a car plus four passengers on any Sealink ferry.

SHROPSHIRE MINI OLYMPICS

The Shropshire Mini Olympics held on Saturday Sept 17 proved to be a Grove-dominated affair with players from Market Drayton gaining Gold in every event.

The Senior title went to Keith Sillitoe and David Williams but not before Jim Bishston from Oswestry had caused all kinds of problems for the Market Drayton duo. Meanwhile Carol Wickstead and Julie Ballard narrowly won the Junior title with Carol unbeaten throughout the day. Pontesbury brothers David and Stephen Morris were gallant runners-up. The younger age groups were dominated by Grove with brothers, and newcomers to the area, John and Phillip Ainsworth in Gold medal positions. Johnpartnered Dawn Wickstead to victory in the U-14 event whilst Phillip partnered Edward Knighton to success in the U-11 event.

MIDLAND LEAGUE

Telford and Grove both made a fine start to the new Midland League season.

Telford A visited Leamington whom they beat 8-2. M. Beaman and M. Langford each winning three and D. Elkin one.

Grove trounced Leamington 10-0 and as the score suggests the Grove trio of Paul Barnett, Sillitoe and Colin Wilson were in complete control.

REGIONAL RANKING TOURNAMENT

Louise Sherratt of Grove booked her place in the forthcoming national ranking tournaments by finishing in the number one spot in the regional U-14 trials. Johanna Dyke and Victoria Boyd, both of Grove, impressed by gaining positions in the top ten.

In the U-17 events Oliveira Stephen McQueen surpassed all expectations in the boys’ competition where he finished second.

Karen Rogers and Carol Wickstead gave impressive performances in the U-17 girls’ singles, finishing fourth and sixth respectively. Dawn Wickstead (15) gave an excellent performance to finish number 8.

Star of the Cadet boys’ event was Pontesbury’s Justin Goodall who showed a full range of attacking strokes to finish the day in a highly creditable third place, with David Morris at 12 and Steven Eaton at 16.

NATIONAL TOURNAMENTS

Carol Wickstead of Grove was in top form at the North of England Championships at Manchester when she demolished England International Jill Powis 21-5 in the third. Carol proceeded to the latter stages of the women’s singles where she was narrowly beaten in three by Joanne Shaw of Yorkshire, another England-ranked player.

Julie Ballard of Grove reached the final stages of the girls’ singles, beating Lynne Harrison and then scoring a superb win over England-ranked Amanda Hegarty of Wolverhampton before losing to Joanne Shaw.

Malcolm Green, Grove, reached the last 16 of the men’s singles, including a win over Ben Johns, Cheshire, before losing a hard-fought game with Kevin Beadlesley, Yorkshire.

Karen Rogers, Grove, was in fine form at the North Yorkshire Junior Open, reaching the quarter-finals of the U-15 girls’ singles. In the early rounds Karen proved too strong for Rebecca Bullock, Suffolk’s England-ranked Sarah Hurry. In the last 16 she faced tough opposition in the highly-rated Helen Broomhead, Yorkshire, but in a hard match the Grove girl made good use of her spin serves and improved forehand topspin to emerge as winner. In the quarters she gave a splendid performance before losing a hard-fought match to England No. 1 Cadet Andrea Holt.

The same tournament Pontesbury’s David Morris reached the latter stages of the boys’ U-15 event before losing to Stuart Cragg of Cleveland. He also reached the last 16 of the U-13 event before falling to Drew Eden, Lancashire, by a slim margin.
NATIONAL LEAGUE
A nervous start to the National League campaign saw Grove I beating Gillette Reading 5-3 in a close match thanks to unbeaten displays by John Hilton and Malcolm Green.

This nervous start was followed by a superb win against Byker Newcastle on the Groves’ home ground. Hilton maintained his 100% record, Phil Bowen returned to form and together with Steve Scowcroft was unbeaten. Green got the other for a7-1 win.

In the absence of Hilton, Paul Barnett was recalled for the journey to Ormesby and what a splendid job they did. Barnett rose to the occasion and a superb 6-2 home win over Butterfly set the day. Bowen again outstanding, again unbeaten, and with Steve and Malcolm chipping in with good wins the team’s unbeaten record remains intact.

The second team of Joe and Stan Deakin, Sillitoe and Wilson are finding life a bit tough, but gaining valuable experience. One win, one draw and two defeats does not really do them justice and it must be said that Stan is performing very well with wins over people like Mark Owen and Michael Owens under his belt. The others are fighting as hard as ever and I am sure improved results are in sight.

SOMERSET
SILVER LININGS
The County season for us got off to a fine start with our juniors recording a good 6-2 win over Hampshire at the Westlands Sports Club, Yeovil on Saturday Sept 17. This was a re-arranged fixture to allow the juniors to attend to display their competitive play and skills. I know that all who attended will agree these were considerable at all age levels, the balance of spoils being in favour of the Welsh players who resisted the English invasion with considerable tenacity. But we still managed to come away with some of the spoils with Melonie Carey taking the Cadet title from Jane Wright of our near-neighbour, Devon, with another neighbouring county, Avon, providing the runner-up in the women’s event with their first year junior, Helen Perrott, who showed very good control, skill and determination. It was a fitting stage for all players who attended will agree these were considerable at all age levels, the balance the same result away to Cornwall 1st with Cambridge 1st. Despite being level at 3-3 our opponents finished strongly and won 6-4. Julian Hall, David Henderson, Terry Dowsett, Sue Butcher and Kathy Brierley represented Suffolk. Dowsett recorded 2 wins, Hall (1) and Terry and Julian won the men’s doubles.

SUFFOLK II v KENT II
This match was played on Oct 15 at Ipswich. Owing to unavailability and illness the County called upon the services of Sylvia Kenyon, a promising junior, who had already played in the afternoon at Norwich. Sylvia more than justified her selection by beating Jill Farthing - 20 in the 3rd. Hall and Dowsett won a set each, the final result being 7-3 to Kent.

It was unfortunate that the date chosen for the senior ranking trials clashed with the National League programme, and as a result five men were unable to attend. Nevertheless, the list was compiled as follows:-

Men
- 1 John Kitchener
- 2 Stuart Palmer
- 3 Mick Pander
- 4 Russell King
- 5 David Henderson
- 6 Julian Hall
- 7 Tony Dowsett
- 8 Chris Shepherd
- 9 Rob Milne
- 10 Malcolm Davis
- 11 Paul Gooding
- 12 Shaun Caracci
- 13 Nick Llewellyn
- 14 David Halliday
- 15 Clive Woolard

Women
- 1 Julie Dowsett
- 2 Sue Welham
- 3 Sue Butcher
- 4 Kathy Brierley
- 5 Jane Leonard
- 6 Deen Harvey
- 7 David Ryder
- 8 Michelle Akras
- 9 Suzi Mortimer
- 10 Sylvia Kenyon
- 11 Paul Gooding
- 12 Claire Nicholls

The Juniors played their first match against arch-rivals Norfolk ll in the newly extended and equipped Norman Centre in a match which lasted four hours. The form book predicted that Suffolk would record an away victory, but entering play by the Norfo.lk side ensured that our juniors had to fight for every point. Players on both sides were making their County debuts and had to overcome anxiety and nerves before settling down to play their shots. A high standard of skill was evident throughout the match with Suffolk eventually winning 6-4. Scores (Norfolk first):-

1. Fox bt P. Gooding - 14 - 17; 20 bt R. Hutchinson 18 - 22
2. L. Diggings lost to S. Kenyon/J. Mortimer - 12 - 15; lost to S. Caracciollo - 13 - 11
3. N. Piskad lost to Caracciollo - 12 - 13; lost to Gooding - 12 - 18
4. Chamberlain/M. Howe lost to S. Kenyon/J. Mortimer - 12 - 11
5. Fox/Pickard lost to Caracciollo/Gooding - 18 - 20 -18
6. Howe lost to Kenyon - 17 - 13
7. Chamberlain/M. Mortimer - 13 - 12

The season's second match was at the same venue against Norfolk l. Darren Jones made his debut as Shaun Caraccio was unavailable. Norfolk established a 6-0 lead before Sylvia Kenyon opened Suffolk's account with a good win against Rachel Wilson. This seemed to spur the team on, further wins being recorded by Paul Gooding and Richard Hutchinson to make the final score more respectable, Norfolk winning 7-3. Scores (Norfolk first):-

1. Raymond bt P. Gooding - 10 - 9; 21 bt D. Jones 17 - 15
3. Steward bt Hutchinson 20 - 10; 16; lost to P. Caracciollo - 18 - 17
4. Wilson lost to S. Kenyon - 10 - 16
5. Jenkins bt J. Mortimer - 18 - 11
6. Raymond/Steward bt Gooding/Hutchinson 15 - 17
7. Jenkins/Wilson lost to Kenyon - 10 - 17

ST. NEOTS

Sylvia Kenyon, Richard Hutchinson and Chris Nicholls (all Cadets) together with Claire Nicholls, Paul Gooding, Shaun Caraccio, Darren Jones, Wayne Shaw and Michael Wright (Juniors) have attended the Eastern Region Training Squad and both cadets and juniors have acquitted themselves well. Most of these players will continue to make progress on the tournament scene and over best wishes go out to Caraccio and Gooding who will be going to the Junior Ranking Tournament in Cleveland.

Gooding was ranked fourth and Caraccio eighth, in the boys, with Hutchinson coming ninth in the Cadet boys at the East/East Midlands Region 3 trials in October. As competition is fierce for places on the Top Juniors' coaching sessions held bi-weekly in Ipswich, it has decided to start a monthly session forthemost promising Cadets who just failed to make the Junior squad. This will serve the dual purpose of maintaining a steady supply of youngsters to replace those who eventually become too old and will help to preserve the younger players' interest. Congratulations to Steve Bond who will run the sessions.

STOWMARKET & DISTRICT

Ian Ward, Chairman, tells me that things look promising for the current season. The first committee meeting was well attended and members were showing positive attitudes towards the job in hand.

Roy Smith and the ICI Red Team are going to do a sponsored parachute jump to help the Greenpeace campaign. Joe Nice has already organised a hard bat competition at Stowupland Village Hall and the arrangements for the 1984 championships are April 10/12, at Stowupland for the preliminary rounds with the first finals night on April 16 at Needham Market. Finals and Presentation Night will be Friday, April 27 at ICI.

Finally, committee meetings are on the 20th of the month unless the date falls on a weekend, in which case no meeting! They are held at the Conservative Club (7.30 p.m.) and I asks for your support.

SURREY SAVIOURS

Challenge Trophies Ltd. the trophy and engraving specialists from North Cheam, have emerged as the savours of the Surrey Closed tournaments agreeing to sponsor both the Senior and Junior events.

The Surrey TIA owe both George and Margaret Seymour much gratitude and hope that this will be the beginning of a long and fruitful relationship.

Because of a clash of dates with The Kent Juniors, Surrey have now moved the date of their Junior Closed to Nov 19/20 with the venue unchanged at Elmbridge Leisure Centre. Details concerning the tournament can be obtained from Johnny Somerville on 01-777 6908.

The Surrey Senior will be held on Feb 4 again at Elmbridge. The organiser for this event is John Hammond 01-399 8341.

The referees for the junior and senior will be Phil Goacher and Janice Seabrook respectively.

It is worth noting that the S.T.T.A. have not adopted the E.T.T.A. regulation concerning different bat rubbers for the two County Closeds and the Inter-League Competitions. However, all you juniors beware... this rule will apply at The South of England Open on Jan 7/8.

Johnny Somerville is attempting to whip up enthusiasm for the various Inter-League competitions... I know he'd love to see the Inter-League Junior revived.

It has been suggested that the various Surrey Inter-League events be held at a central venue on a weekend or two towards the end of the season rather than the lines of the County Programme. This would enable Leagues, who have been unable to field truly representative sides, to have to do so only once or twice during the season rather than on a number of occasions. An excellent idea if there is a spare weekend somewhere.

Graham Spicer had a difficult start to their Halex National League campaign. No doubt they would have beaten Larkhall had Martin Shuttle not rested himself. Not too keen on choppers Martin?

I am pleased and delighted to inform you that Charles' Bourne has posthumously been awarded an E.T.T.A. Merit Award. All his friends in Surrey will concur that Charles certainly deserved such an accolade and indeed much more....

Mike Kercher is again on the lookout for venues for County matches. Tweeddale has been equipped with a brand new tournament table from the Junior South of England sponsors Cornilleau (UK) Ltd.

While on the subject of County matches, the Senior Second team opened their campaign with a 6-4 victory over Kent at Gravesend. The Surrey team comprised Dave Harding, Andrew Sexton, Mike Hammond, Jane Bell and Linda Clemett with Mike and the two ladies remaining unbeaten.

Bob Lewis, Chairman of Rosehill TIC, has been appointed Surrey Representative on The Regional Development Advisory Panel to the National Sports Council. Anybody interested in finding out details concerning capital grants from The Sports Council should contact Bob on 01-337 2157.

Following is a list of the top placings in our own junior county trials. However, pride of place must go to the three youngsters who did so well in the Regional County Trials. (Each Region has ten counties). Cheryl Bateson was 2nd in the Cadet Girls, Richard Jones 3rd in the Cadet Boys, Claire Brooks 2nd in the Junior Girls. Congratulations are in order to all three who will now be invited to the National Trials.

Unfortunately, our top junior boy, Julian Daniels, could only come 10th which suggests that we might be struggling in this category for a while....
Surrey Junior Rankings:

South Of England Junior Two-Star:
- The South of England Junior Two-Star will again be held at Woking Leisure Centre in Surrey over the weekend of Jan 7/8.

Despite not being accepted into the Grand Prix series, the organisers are pleased to announce a major sponsorship deal with the table manufacturers and suppliers Cornilleau (UK) Ltd.

Cornilleau’s David Tabor is keen to make an impact in the UK market and has set up premises at 21 Bramley Road, Cheam, Surrey (01-393 9474). County matches at Tweeddale already have the benefit of a top competition table from Cornilleau.

The Surrey Junior A, as part of the deal, have arranged four exhibitions for Cornilleau at Seymour’s Garden Centre (Oct 22, Nov 5, Nov 19 and Dec 3) which is situated along the A24 in Epsom.

It has been suggested that Jacques Secretin will be at the finals session to perform that awe-inspiring comedy demonstration recently seen on T.V. We can only hope that this will happen.

Entry forms for the tournament will be available from Norman Hooper, 107 Largewood Avenue, Tolworth, Surrey. (01-397 9533)._____________________

SUSSIX

MIXED FORTUNES ‘FOR STARTERS.....

ADRIAN and STEPHEN MOORE gave Sussex what appeared to be a flying boost for the new season by both appearing in the County Championships opening match but alas, an eye injury for Rachel Mackriell put her out and Sussex went down 6-4 to Dorset, a result that would probably have been reversed if Mackriell had been fit.

After that plus and then a minus came another set-back when the first junior side was unable to come to the table because seven juniors had more important things to do on a Saturday than play for Sussex. New junior boss Derek Elphick had a few things to say about that however and now the junior county championships programme is proceeding with far less absenteeism.

The threat was so real that the possibility of withdrawing one of the junior teams was made.

Another early set-back came when it was discovered that the venue for the all-Sussex championships, Lancing Leisur Centre had already arranged a volleyball match on the chosen evening in January. However, now that everyone is waking up to the fact that sports halls need to be booked even in pencil at least a year in advance, that situation has been rectified with a new date, April 1st. It might be April Fool’s Day, but at least it is date free of other major commitments like National League, so all the leading players should be competing with the possible exception of Malcolm Francis who could be either on the QE2 World Cruise or taking part in an exhibition with Jacques Secretin.

The top players may also be available, at least the men, for the East Sussex championships on Nov 27 at Bexhill where every £200 prize money will be at stake. There will be new East Sussex women doubles champions however, as Diane Griggs who won it last year with Carole Hewett now has a family of three youngsters including new twin girls! Teams of baby-sitters are now being sought in the Hailsham area, but at least in years to come there could be a Griggs family team!

HONOURS EVEN

The first County Championships matches of the season were played on Oct 1.

The Senior ‘B’ team playing in Div 2A were held to a 5-5 draw away to Lancs., Lester Bertie, Ian and Phil Gunn winning a set each and Ian and Phil pairing up to win the men’s doubles. Our other set was won by Sandra Peakman and Di St. Ledger in the women’s doubles.

The Junior ‘A’ team competing in Div 2A entertained Camb’s and won by the convincing score of 10-0. The team comprised Mandy Randle, Mike Thomas, Martin Campbell, Dawn Bromley and Melanie McHayle.

The Junior ‘B’ side playing in Div 3, and made up of U-15-year-olds put up a strong fight against Camb’s ‘B’ but lost 6-4. Our team was Dave Thomas, Veronah Chauham, Shaun Simon, Tracey Green and Lisa Spilsbury, the latter playing her first match for the county.

Following the Junior Trials the ranking lists were circulated as:

WARWICKSHIRE LEAGUE

The first Sunday play-off matches of the Warwickshire League will again be held at the West Warwickshire Club, Olton on Dec 11 1983. It is anticipated that 8 teams will be participating, 3 Birmingham Leagues, (South, East and Business Houses) and teams from Coventry, Leamington, Rugby, Nuneaton and Stratford. We will have a little bet with Brian Lloyd, the South Secretary, and say I have a feeling that the South will this time be hard-pressed to retain their title, but I will not make any predictions as to who will be the eventual winners except that I hope this tournament is as successful and enjoyable as in previous seasons.

DREAM FULFILLED

The Birmingham Association are very happy to announce that they now have their own Headquarters. They have taken over the lease of the BSA Sports and Social Club in Small Heath, which will be known as the Birmingham Table Tennis Centre.

The Centre will be in operation 7 days a week and will accommodate 4/5 tables (also a licensed bar) and it is hoped that all Birmingham Association members will join in and support the new Centre and use it as their practice and coaching facility.

A more detailed report on the Centre and the future of the Headquarters will be published in a later edition of Table Tennis News but any member requiring more information can write or telephone the Association Secretary Mr M. Goldstein, 31 Blenheim Road, Moseley, Birmingham B13 Telephone 021-449 7047.

55TH DUNLOP MIDLAND COUNTIES OPEN

The Midland Open is again being staged at the Alumwell Centre, Primley Avenue, Walsall over the weekend of Nov 12/13, 1983.

As the only 3-Star Championship in the area we anticipate a first class entry with the majority of the National-Ranked players competing, so if you are not entering the tournament it will be well worthwhile visiting the Centre as a spectator.

The Finals on Sunday evening are at 6.30 p.m.

WILTSHIRE “NICE GUYS”

Two Mr “Nice Guys” of Wiltshire table tennis were saluted at the county’s annual meeting at Devizes.

Swindon’s Roy Hazell, who has been a county administrator for 20 years, was made president.

And Dennis Waters, who has played-for the senior and now the veterans’ teams, was presented with a trophy for his services to Wiltshire table tennis.

He was presented with the Kathleen Waters Memorial Shield - a trophy in memory of his sister who also played for the county and was its secretary for many years.

Roy Hazell, who retired as chairman, said the county’s open tournament had become one of the best in the country but urged more people to get involved in fund raising.

Match secretaries of both the first and second senior teams reported problems in fielding their top teams in the County Championships.

Officers elected were: President-Roy Hazell; Chairman - Len Smith; Vice-Chairman - John Webb; Secretary - Cliff Mills; Treasurer-Doug Parsons; County Match Secretaries - Doug Parsons (seniors), Val Clack (juniors). Dennis Waters (veterans), John Bright (veterans II); Umpires’ Secretary-Ted Fisher; Coaching Officer - Sylvia Morse; Press Officer - Laurie Selby; Inter-Town Secretary - Alan Duke; Auditor - Les Howse.

The new international ruling over different coloured bat coverings was given the thumbs down at the annual meeting of the Swindon league.

The meeting voted to oppose the new law and ask the Wiltshire ETIA to represent their views to the national association.

Officers elected were: President-Roy Hazell; Vice-President - Ted Fisher; Chairman - Colin Skingsley; Secretary - Val Clack; Treasurer - Andrew Eatwell; Coaching Officer - Val Clack; Registration Secretary - Alan Duke; Umpires’ Secretary - Margaret Plumb; Inter-town League Secretary - Steve McBean; Cotswold League Secretary - Brenda Lee; Press Officer - Laurie Selby; Minutes Secretary - Sylvia Townsend; Championship Secretary - Sylvia Morse.

At both annual meetings tributes were paid to Coun. Alf Bown, president, who died during the season.

Ever heard of table tennis helping a schoolgirl to pass an exam?

Well, it happened to Swindon’s Brenda Lea. This former Swindon schoolgirl champion hit on the idea when searching for a project for her GCE ‘A’ level exam in communication.

She decided to launch the first ever Swindon schools league, and it proved a hit with 16 teams taking part in Under-14 and Under-19 events.

She sent letters to all PE teachers’ in the town and wrote to all junior players in the league - and she got donations of team and individual trophies.

She also got her photo in the Swindon Evening Advertiser for her enterprise.

And it all paid off with a Grade ‘B’ pass for Brenda.

A great performance by Andrew Oxley won him the South West regional assessments.

Other Wiltshire players who went through to the England ranking trials were Mark Powell, Martin Edwards and Lorraine Cox in the cadet section.

Doug Moss reports from Worcestershire.

WORCESTERSHIRE

DIFFERENCE IN STANDARD

The County teams did not have the best fortune in their first round of matches. The 1 team, on promotion to Div. 1, played Yorkshire II. The difference in standard was important and, although there were many close games the Yorkshire players generally came out on top. The one event, in a 9-1 loss, was the men’s doubles won by Murray Jukes and Trevor Washington - and that was at 21-19 in the 3rd game! The II team travelled to Oxfordshire and, of the selected players, Simon Claxton and Nick Bottomley were not available. This brought in Steve Horton, for his first match, and Mark Hingley and they both won a singles. Sandra Roden played well to win her singles but this was the sum total with Oxfordshire winning 7-3.

Simon Claxton will be playing in the U19 first home match versus Huntingdonshire, and there are good chances of a win to give the team confidence.

The Veterans’ team played Hunts. The teams had previously met 2 seasons ago when Hunts won 5-4 and went on to gain promotion. However, after one season, the teams met again in Div. II - the score stood at 4-4 but Hunts again managed the 5-4 win. The one bright spot for Worcestershire was the Junior team of Helen Jones and Lisa Hunt (Kidderminster) who won her singles and all the doubles.

There is a new Cadet League in the Midlands with all teams visiting Leamington Spa on three occasions during the season. Worcester, Bromsgrove and Evesham have teams entered. In the first round of matches Worcester lost to Bromsgrove 9-1 and 10-nil to Evesham. This League indicates the amount of coaching which is going on of really young players. To my mind this is safeguarding the future of our game.

The Worcester Junior A team has played its first match in the Midlands League. They beat Burton 6-4. Kloos played very well to win his 3 events in straight games. Andrew Bullock contributed two and Mark Roden one. The Burton team is coached by Ian Knights, who spent quite some time in Worcestershire and had considerable success as a Coach.

I have always been impressed by the number of Team Knock-Out Competitions which are played in both the Kidderminster and Malvern Leagues. Kidderminster has two straight K.O. team events - The Vice Presidents Cup, mainly for the top 3 Divisions, and the Regent Cup for teams below Div 3. There is also the Terry Jackson Cup for a Team Knock-Out Handicap Competition. The Vice-Presidents Cup is already under way with just one result to date - St. Gilberts C 3 Cookley 6.

With the Sports Council laying emphasis on the importance of sport for the over-fifties the County Association is hoping to run a special Tournament near the end of the season.

SERVICE TOTABLE TENNIS

Congratulations to Ross on winning the Ivor Montagu Award for the second time in recognition of his services to table tennis at National level; to Steve Sharpe, who becomes one of the youngest recipients of the Les Forrest Memorial Trophy, for his outstanding contribution as sportsman and No. 1 boy, in which capacity he led the County’s team to become National Junior Premier Champions; to Mandy Holmes on winning the J.A. Cup. Why don’t we have most improved young player in the county; to Karen Arnold, Lesley Broomhead, Alison Evans and Jonathon Bult, members of the successful England squad in the 1983 Stiga Schools’ International Team Championships. Lesley Broomhead was also joint 3rd in the Senior Girls’ International Individual Championships while coaches Sylvia Broadbent and Helen Shields were non-playing captains.

WHISTLE STOP TOUR

How many ambitious young coaches have looked at some of their senior colleagues and thought, “I wish I were in their immaculate footwear, they’ve a bobby’s job.” What I’ve seen of the work done by one or two of our top coaches recently it could be a case of “The other man’s grass always looks greener.” If that man happens to be Donald Parker from whom he would like to take over, let the young coach first consider if he has the right qualifications. Let us assume that he is a first class coach, has played for his county and doesn’t mind working hard on two or three coaching sessions every week. Commendable, but, unfortunately not quite ready for the top. What would this young hypothetical coach have to do to be at least on equal terms? If he had played for England more than a hundred times; had been captain on numerous occasions and can usually command a place in his country’s top ten of the senior rankings, then this young man could be considered as a capable coach. Should he also be able to write learned articles on technical table tennis topics, has the ability to be co-author of a very readable book ‘Top Class Table Tennis’ which Don and Jill have recently had published, then the candidate may just inch his way into the ‘short list’. If also he is willing to spend up to sixteen hours a day coaching and travelling, when the occasion demands, then he would have a chance of selection, but it would be only as assistant to the National Coach, for Don has achieved these career milestones and has other qualities as well.

Recently WT, Mr John Arnold, Chairman of the English Schools T.T.A., eighteen year old Steven Sharpe, who is quickly becoming established as one of the country’s top senior players and your correspondent accompanied Don on a ‘Whistle stop tour’ of five schools in a forty miles circuit. In addition to supervising and directing the coaching demonstrations in each school, Don gave five superb exhibitions with Steve, who was also extremely impressive, to a total of about five hundred enthusiastic youngsters, giving sufficient inspiration to last them a lifetime. At the fifth school, Don synchronised his last coaching tour from Don and Steve. Near 7 p.m. I parted company with Don but at that point would have done a sixteen hour day, punctuated by its own Championships and handbook. More strength to your elbow, Nigel.

Division Three Summer League Winners: Yeadon T.T.C. spearheaded by Premier Division National League player David Indriks, assisted by Tony Lupton and Paul Stansfield, won the top division title for the first time, but could be a threat for years to come. However, the Sturtevants’ T.T.A. Chairman, Alec Head who has very sharp elbows when looking for volunteers which resulted in your press-ed correspondent presenting the trophies. Think I’ll take a course on public speaking just in case Alec spots me at another Y.T.A. function.

Abbydale (Sheffield) won the women’s competition for the second successive year this time defeating Barnsley North End 5-nil.

YORKSHIRE SUMMER LEAGUE

Popular Yorkshire League player, Nigel Thorp, who played in the top divisions of York and Selby, proved this summerthat not only is he a player to be respected on the table, but also has a flair for organising when time permits. Nigel, at short notice, took on the task of York’s Summer League’s Secretary and to quote his own words: “It turned out to be a very enjoyable and rewarding season.” Next season he hopes to build the League to full strength with its own Championships and handbook. More strength to your elbow, Nigel.

YORKSHIRE CLUB FINALS

The much awaited Yorkshire Club’s Men’s K.O. final took place at Batley Sports Centre. In a closely-contested encounter Bradford Hermits defeated Huddersfield Brook Motors 5 sets to three. From the first set Hermits took the lead and although Brook Motors three time did draw level the Bradford team took the seventh and eighth sets to become worthy winners with Michael Stead outstanding (3 wins) and Tony Bottomly (2), Tim Dyson and Steve Brailsford (1) provided strong opposition in a sporting contest. The event was won by Y.T.A. Chairman, Alec Head who has very sharp elbows when looking for volunteers which resulted in your press-ed correspondent presenting the trophies. Alwoodly Community Association ‘B’ took the Div 2 title with their top player, Graham Wylie, taking the Merit. Harrison’s ‘A’ who last the previous season improved considerably to take second place. This could provide encouragement for the young Thorpe ‘B’ side who never gave up inspite of losing 99 of the 100 sets played. If there were medals for ‘guts’ and enthusiasm I think you would have won them boys; I’m sure readers join me in wishing you more material success next season.

YORKSHIRE RANKINGS

Melody Hill of Bradford retains her No.1 ranking at the top of the women’s list, but Steve Mills of Sheffield has been overtaken by Alan Fletcher, who leads the men’s list.
SOHAM SLOW TO START

European Club Cup commitments have kept champions Hassay perfection. Soham out of the Premier Division just so far and the other two big clubs, Thorn-EMI Ellenborough and Ormesby, are making all the running. However, Tibhar London are looking dangerous in third place with ex-Soham player, David Wells, as their No.1.

On 2nd October, London visited Ormesby but found Donald Parker and Henk Van Spanje too strong. Both won two sets and Lindsay Taylor beat Richard Jermyn 21-19 in the third to clinch victory for the Teesiders.

TARMAC RACE AHEAD

No takers for Paul Chester's athletic challenge last month have yet come forward. Perhaps the opposition wisely prefer to save their energy for the match when facing Tarmac Wolverhampton.

But if any club is to stop Tarmac they will need more than energy and Grove Market Drayton might have the essential ingredients. The two clubs meet on 6th November, bringing former Sealink Milton Keynes team mates Douggie Johnson and John Hilton to opposite ends of the table.

SOUTH YORKSHIRE ON TOP

New club, Washington, are second placed in Third Division North but were beaten 7-1 by the leaders, South Yorkshire II, on Sunday 25th September. South Yorks, with a large squad of talented players to field in the National League, are favourites for the Division and promotion next year. If their first team slip up to Chan that would cause problems as regulations about two teams from the same club in the same division are to be suggested for next year.

CHANCE FOR CHU

A draw against Tarmac Wolverhampton II on 25th September convinced South Yorkshire manager, Graham Coe, to take action. No. 1 Chris Rogers had won two but he decided another player was needed to strengthen the squad and approached Byker Newcastle for Chu Van Que.

"When Newcastle had a sponsor it was possible to pay Chu", said Byker manager, Jimmy Scope, "but this year the club is very short of funds. We didn't feel we could keep Chu after South Yorkshire's offer and released him for a reasonable transfer fee."

REVAMPED DOLPHINS

New players and management team at TCB Dolphins have brought the Mid-Sussex club's game to life in Second Division South. Depotted from the first division last season, Dolphins lost the Moore brothers to other clubs and are now tackling the task of rebuilding the team.

They started impressively and have soared to the top of the division. But Dagenham, with Dave Hammans and Kevin Caldon, have played only two matches to date while Dolphins have already dropped a point - at home to Witton FC on 25th September.

NORWICH THE PERFECT VENUE

October 2nd brought the first National League fixture ever to the new Norwich table tennis centre. It was a match that fitted the occasion perfectly enthused Vic Bennett of Norwich Foxwood afterwards.

Norwich stars, Doug Bennett and Richard Stevenson took an hour to go into a 2-0 lead but Playrite Northampton hit back to level at half time. Bennett and Stevenson made sure of a point and then Simon Steward took the eighth set in a storming finish to a memorable match. Norwich 5 Northampton 3.

TORBAY TRANSFER

The name of George Evans always looked somewhat out of place on the team list for Pengeley Sports Torbay: it was no surprise when he transferred to Cranfield Colours Halex of Gwent within two weeks of the season beginning. Torbay, however, are still leading Third Division West with a vital match against Holmes Carpets of Salisbury scheduled for 6th November.

CIPPENHAM RECOVER

Cippenham staged a dramatic recovery from 2-4 down on Sunday 26th September to win their first point in Third Division South writes Graham Trimming. Heroes were Frank Earis and Steve Brindle who, between them, won the last two sets of the afternoon in the drawn match against Dunstable at The Centre, Slough.

The following Sunday, Alec Watson made a spectacular comeback after Brindle was injured in a motorcycle accident. Watson whose table tennis career was threatened by illness and injuries won two sets as Cippenham surprised unbeaten Jaques Fareham II to snatch a draw on October 2nd.

The previous week, Fareham had had to survive intense pressure from newcomers Nittaku Wimbledon. Fareham raced to a 3-0 lead and things looked black for Bourne reports Hazel Smith. But Martin Les played brilliantly and John Burton with determination, to haul the away team back into the match. It was to no avail, bad tactics by Les let in Graeme O'Tooie and Chris Shefter crushed Vic McCannry to keep the Fareham team challenging for promotion.

The season started with the need to re-assess our fortunes due to the withdrawal from international play of three of our top players. RICHARD YULE - the backbone of our national team for more than ten years - has just commenced full time employment with the Scottish Sports Council as a Development Officer with responsibility for five sports (but not including Table Tennis), in consequence he will have less time for practice and playing. He remains Vice-Chairman (Coaching) of the Scottish TTA, will play a few tournaments when the requirements of his new job allow, and hopes to be available for Moscow if required. ELAINE FORBES, who came back to international play in 1981 to compete in Budapest and Tokyo, has decided to 'call it a day and in future will concentrate on coaching the youngsters. She is the Assistant Manager at the Lasswade High Centre, near Edinburgh. KEITH RODGER is at present undertaking a police induction course in Coventry prior to joining the Birmingham Constabulary. In consequence he has retired from the international scene for the time being - we hope this absence will only be temporary until he finds his feet in his new environment - as he is a player who will be hard to replace; he has the rare quality of being able to produce his best form at times of stress such as winning the 9th tie against both AUSTRIA and ISRAEL in Tokyo to give Scotland 5-4 victories and 25th place overall.

These three players have all given sterling service to Scotland over the years and we wish them every success in their new careers. With the loss of these three from the international squad the news of Carole Dalrymple's misfortune in breaking her right collarbone, when she was knocked off her bicycle, the evening before the first event of the season was hard to take. However, she is now well on the way to a complete recovery and she hopes to be fit to play before Christmas.

3.9.83: STTA Senior Classification Tournament, Jack Kane Centre, Edinburgh.

With David Hannah away on holiday and Carole Dalrymple indisposed, both Scottish No. 1's were absent from the day long play on 12 tables. In the MEN'S event players in the top three categories were allocated according to the current ranking list or assessment of their ability. The balance of entrants played off in eight groups with the winners going into Category 4 and the losers into Category 5. The LADIES played in two groups of eight.

MEN: Yule, in good form, finished the day undefeated, dropping only one game to John Broe in their last set. Graeme Docherty, who had been in such good form at the end of last season (wins over Broe and David McIlroy), had a poor day and could muster only one win.

Top Ten positions:

WOMEN: Top junior - Diane Greig-won the event despite a loss to the other top junior - Lynn Johnston - however she defeated Patrice Fleming and took top position with a superior games average.

Top Ten positions:

16/17.9.83: Home Countries Quadrangular Tournament. Bolton. Full details of Scotland's achievement of 2nd place behind England is reported elsewhere. It was good to see David Hannah continuing in the form which brought him the SWANSEA OPEN and BOURNEMOUTH OPEN titles the previous weekend, by taking the only two sets lost by England with defeats of both Skylet Andrew and Graham Sandley. With the incapacity of Carole Dalrymple it had been decided to give our junior girls Janet Smith and Diane Greig, who had performed with credit in the recent European Youth Championships, their first senior caps and they justified their selection by winning their sets in the 5-2 defeat of Wales.

21.9.83: European League Div. 2: Scotland v Turkey
Our 0-7 defeat by Turkey was hard to understand, we knew them to be a strong side but not that strong! Hannah was 14-7 and 20-17 up in the second, having won the first, yet lost and the third 21-13 whilst in his two singles and in the doubles, with Broe and Janet Smith as partners, defeat only came in the third end.

A large entry, including many youngsters new to competitive table tennis, played throughout the day on 14 tables.

BOYS: Martin Crawford had a good day, losing only to Gordon Waddell who lost only to Gordon Cummings, however Martin took top place with a better games average. Ian Stokes had a disastrous day, winning only one set to finish in lowly 8th place.

GIRLS: Lynn Johnston completed her schedule with 7 straight wins, including an 18 and 17 win over Diane Greig, to achieve top position, with Diane in 2nd place. Maureen Cusick was 3rd.

CADET BOYS: Gavin Turnbull (Edinburgh) was unbeaten and Colin Carmichael (WoS) gave best only to CADET BOYS: Gavin Turnbull and the third 13-21 whilst in his achieve top position, with Diane in second singles and in the doubles, set to finish in lowly 8th place.

Glasgow CENTRAL YMCA confirmed their superiority of the Scottish club scene when they retained the STEWART ANDERSON TROPHY on Oct 9 against a challenge from 13 other top Scottish clubs - winners and runners-up of affiliated leagues' top divisions in 1982/83 season. CENTRAL have now won the title 8 times in the past 10 years and the last three years in succession. As last year their 'A' and 'B' teams contested the final, in 1982 the 'A' team won, this year it was the 'B' team which came out best 5-4 in a thrilling, hard-hitting game, with Brian Wright winning three of the four for the 'B' team, and McIlroy beating Broe and Russell Brown for the 'A' team.

BOURNEMOUTH 1-STAR OPEN
Anglo Scot David Hannah was the winner of the men's singles title at Bournemouth on Sept. 11 beating John Payne of Middlesex in the final. Kent's Juliet Houghton won the women's singles title, beating Sarah Hammond of Hants in the final, and this ah er victory over Sally Weston of Sussex in the girls' final. Results:

We often hear talk of ‘industrial muscle’ but what of ‘table tennis muscle’? I think table tennis underestimates its potential collective strength. We could more actively promote and market the game in a changing world - even diverse but relatively successful organisations like the Conservative Party and Spurs F.C. need to be sold, so why not Table Tennis?

On the administration side, one remembers the financial failures of the World Championships and generally the ETTA should adopt a more professional approach.

One of the major reasons for the decline in Table Tennis has been the failure of the ITTF to come to grips with the problem of standardisation of the bat rubber. The average player is baffled by the many combinations of rubbers, blades and thicknesses and their effect on speed, spin and control. A good knowledge of polymer technology and ballistic missiles would seem to be essential qualifications for the modern player. In the maligned days of pimpled rubber, the better player was the winner as he could only rely on his own skill and determination whereas today it is the one who can afford the latest in new technology to produce an unplayable service or drive.

Tom Blunn asks where do we go from here? Unless membership is increased then Table Tennis will soon rate with marbles and tiddly winks as curious games rather than an important sport.

It is not just the high-cost endowment policy. The Industry and to my knowledge the company did not support table tennis. However, The Halifax manager was happy for me to obtain a quotation from Norwich Union of whom I had heard and who did support table tennis. The Norwich Union terms were comparable, indeed favourable, and so Norwich Union has my business.

My proposal is that we all should give the companies who support table tennis the opportunity to quote. They are doing us a favour and if they have competitive prices, we should return the compliment. Even more importantly, we should tell our building society managers etc. why we want to support particular companies. It may get them to think for, after all, many table tennis players will be first time, second time, third time... house buyers.

OH WHERE, OH WHERE?
I feel that I cannot let John Prean’s letter in the last issue pass without comment. Personally, I resent the comment that there is a gap between those at the top and those at the roots. May I suggest that my own involvement at grass roots level is considerable and is at least equal to John’s. I am sure that most table tennis players in Northumberland and Durham would bear this out. This involvement is also true in respect of most members of the Management Committee.

His comment may upset me, but that is not the real issue that has prompted me to put pen to paper. The suggestion that there is money about to spend on the top players is my main concern, because if there is, I am not

This is an enquiry about the use of computers in Table Tennis. I would be interested to hear from anyone who has written and used a computer programme in the compilation of results for clubs or leagues. I would also be interested to hear from anyone willing to exchange ideas on this subject.

Junior Ranking Tournament v County Championships

This argument must surely be a totally untenable one on the on-going saga of C.C. v N.L.

The Final Draft Calendar of Events for the 1983/84 Season was printed and issued showing the Junior/Cadet Ranking Tournament FIXED for the weekend of 19/20th November. It must have been a great shock to many people, including myself, unless you happen to be in the know, to have found that this prestigious points tournament had been switched to a County Championships weekend, i.e. 26/27th November.

There is no mention of a Junior/Cadet Ranking Tournament FIXED for the weekend in either Diary. The Diary is invariably sold some time after the beginning of the new season when a lot of arrangements for individual County Tournaments have already been made.

Believe it or not the only event advertised on the original date was the Kirklees 2-Star (Senior?) Tournament. There is no mention of a Junior Tournament in either Diary.

Question:
1. What importance is placed on the County Championships when officials can decide to stage a Junior/Cadet Ranking Tournament on the same weekend?
2. Would this have happened if that same weekend had been a Junior Premier County Championships event (Although only 8 Counties are involved out of a total of 18ior. Shh.... National League was scheduled)?
3. Why should an apparently 2-Star Senior Tournament take precedence when the change was made?

Questions should also be asked of the appropriate officials responsible for the change why they decided to, on the face of it, downgrade an event which the E.T.T.A. have been so persistent in trying to justify over the last few years as the main tournament.

I appreciate that the damage has already been done but this must surely place the County Championships in its right perspective.

"Food for Thought" for you Murray and congratulations on your new appointment as Press Officer. Best of Luck!

The Way out

By John Prean

I came into Table Tennis less than two decades ago. When I was younger I played Football and Bridge and when I started playing our Game I was already too old to scale great heights. Nevertheless Table Tennis has been my Sport ever since. That it was so little regarded by the wider public passed my comprehension. I could not understand why our inter-town matches, even county matches were played in empty halls, why so few came to the English Open, why the ETTA was forever short of money, why we were hardly ever on Television. For many years I regarded my fellow-citizens as mistaken fools who did not know a good thing when they saw it. I could not imagine- and still cannot- a finer sport that has so much going for it. So what has gone wrong? Are all our fellows fools? IT IS a great sport.

Wherever there is a table tennis table - from holiday camp to ocean liner - people will rush to play. They have even been known to come to blows; the small table is suitable for the small screen, far more than a tennis court or a football pitch. Can anyone tell me that the housewife finds the monotonous sticking of darts attractive, to give value for money. I refer everybody to 'A Connection between increased Fees and Declining Numbers' (T.T. News October) one of the most thoughtful and best contributions I have ever read. The headline tells the main story, but the research supports the argument. ETTA fees are already inflation-proofed. Nevertheless few of us in the main stream of national Table Tennis realize we oppose increased affiliation fees if we felt the money would be well spent, on the sport rather than bureaucracy and fringe activities.

The No. 1 priority is to sell and promote the Sport I say that in the present crisis it is almost the only priority. That is the only way we shall get more public respect, that results from publicity and media exposure, the only way we shall get more members and more income. To try to extract more from fewer, clearly dwindling numbers will merely increase our problems. The National A.G.M. may vote it through, but more and more members will drift away to play their own table tennis without the ETTA. The reader from Cheltenham told the story we see every day.

In the short term ETTA fees will have to be raised if the Sport is to become more popular in the local leagues. If they all came to the A.G.M. the fee increase would not get through. Most local players regard it as a sort of tax, unpleasant but inevitable. Some drift away and play outside the ETTA, I beg the ETTA therefore to make membership more attractive, to give values - I have made various suggestions privately. My main public one would be to get the Magazine out into the local leagues. It remains the best thing the ETTA does, but only a tiny minority sees it. It should be a condition of membership to buy the Magazine. The advantage is that a larger circulation, lower printing costs, higher advertising revenue. The biggest asset of all would be a well-informed membership, one that looks beyond the next local league match. It is the only way of communicating with the membership, the only way of breaking out of the present Catch 22 situation where little gets done, less gets changed because few know and fewer still care, where virtually nothing goes on except the time-worn annual rituals many of which are totally un-interesting to the wider public and only a little less so to the membership.

In my column I write about the excellent staging of recent international matches in Sunderland and Bury. Last season I reported similarly from Grimsby. Great - but every local association should have at least one show piece event each season - that will create a background for Table Tennis, for local pride, for respect. Here the ETTA could and should take the initiative to get some packages together that local associations would take up. That is what the Barna/Szabados/Bellak tours of the '30's were - that was what helped put Table Tennis on the map. It would help our top players, quite a few of whom are on the dole. It would help the leagues put Table Tennis on the local maps. The 1990 document visualises all that, but I am afraid it is the 1990 part that is taken seriously, rather than the recommendations, which need action in '83/4.

Our Sport rarely appears on Television and when it does, I sometimes wonder whether I am watching a home-movie, so inept and uncaring is the treatment. I take the point that all too often our negotiators feel like small manufacturers trying to sell to a church store, but there is something we can do. We can make sure that at least our televised events are played before large and enthusiastic audiences rather than empty benches and bored V.I.P.'s. Complimentary tickets should go out in dozens rather than singles to the people who run the local leagues and counties as a gesture for keeping the ETTA going at the roots - and to fill those empty spaces which create such a bad impression.

Gradually it will get around as a result of such steps and others that the ETTA is not just a tax collector, but that it cares about its members some of whom officers of the ETTA would meet on these occasions. Let the ETTA think what IT can do for its members, rather than what its members can do for the ETTA.

I close with one of my favourite Churchill stories. As the great man entered a building in Whitehall a group of workmen who were repairing the building gave him his usual big reception: 'Good, old Winnie... he'll get us through'. It was just after Dunkirk. Hitler was at the gates. Inside, a companion noticed tears running down Churchill's face. Why? Churchill replied: 'Because I cannot see ANY way out'. There was a way out. There is a way out for English Table Tennis too. The ETTA is an institution and institutions do not die overnight, but there have been too many nights. The membership has been taken for granted too long and now there is a crisis and there is a time for unity, but even more for effort and action.
SUPPORT DES AND CARL AT WEMBLEY!

Both Des Douglas and Carl Prean will be at Wembley on Friday, 18th November, facing four of the World’s top competitors in the CHARLES CHURCH CHAMPIONSHIP. Now, with a special offer only available to Table Tennis News readers, you can be there to support England’s leading players and take advantage of specially reduced tickets.

Tickets for the Championship, which starts at 6.30 p.m., are available from the England Table Tennis Association, price £4.50 and £3.50 (group rates by negotiation). By sending in the two 50p vouchers from the October and November issues with your ticket order to ETTA office, Table Tennis News readers will be allowed £1 discount on the cost of a ticket. A maximum of two vouchers per ticket will be allowed and each voucher can only be used towards the cost of one ticket.

But hurry! This offer has to end on November 15th 1983 to allow postal applications to be processed by the ETTA office: 21 Claremont, Hastings, East Sussex TN34 1HF, Tel: (0424) 433121, and continue saving the NORWICH UNION ENGLISH OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP vouchers for the season’s other major event in January 1983. Details will appear in December and January issues of Table Tennis News.

SECRETIN AND FRANCIS
THE FRENCH CONNECTION
by JOHN WOODFORD

JACQUES SECRETIN, VINCENT PURKART and now MALCOLM FRANCIS! Three names to conjure with in the world of exhibition and trick-shot table tennis.

Most enthusiasts inside our sport and many thousands on the outside marvelled at the exhibition given by Secretin and Purkart televised at Basingstoke two years ago... pure magic was the expression I heard used to describe their antics.

Professional Malcolm Francis, the former Sussex champion and still nationally ranked by the computer has now joined the two Frenchmen and I understand that the Uckfield controversial figure will feature in a number of forthcoming exhibitions both in Britain and elsewhere. Exhibition play will be predominantly between Secretin and Francis.

October 26th is the launch date of the latest exhibition series at a venue in Sutton, Surrey and the French ambassador has promised to attend to help boost the export drive for the “Cornelleau” table tennis table! Yes, there has to be a strong commercial angle and here it is - The French company CORNILLEAU based near Paris have sold 100,000 quality table tennis tables in France this year and are now expanding into the export markets, especially to this country, in fact 7,000 tables have been sold in England since May.

The twin attractions are the quality and the competitive prices of the “Cornelleau” tables. I am told that the French production line produces tables at the rate of 12 a minute - the achievement is mass production of fine tables, all produced at one factory, instead of the top coming from one source and the under-carriage coming from elsewhere, keeping the price right down, well below the long-standing competitors.

All sports exhibitions of any size this season will contain the new French assault on the table market and also personal appearances and even exhibitions by Secretin and Francis who is also heavily involved all the year round with exhibition matches without the French connection all over the country. Additionally, he is expected to be going on the Round-the-World cruise on the QE2 on January 2nd for thirteen weeks, supplying coaching and exhibitions.

An extra on the QE2 cruise is that Francis and hopefully two reasonably skilful passengers will issue local team challenges at the 26 ports of call round-the-world.

MALCOLM FRANCIS (Sussex) and the former French and European champion JACQUES SECRETIN two of the vital components in the Anglo-French table tennis circus soon to be seen in Britain.
LANCASHIRE LIFE

HONOURS EVEN

Lancashire 2nds began their County Championships programme in Division 2A by sharing the spoils with Warwickshire 2nds on Oct 1 at Bamber Bridge. It proved to be a marathon encounter lasting all of four hours making it a long day for the umpires who had, in the afternoon, officiated in the Junior 2A match between Lancs and Bedfordshire.

Keith Williams, that bonny battler from Liverpool, served Lancs II well by beating Lester Bertie and Ian Gunn to which successes Phil Huggon beat his namesake, Gunn, and both girls, Nikki Cowley and Amanda Goodwin, added their singles, the latter accounting for Sandra Peakman, conqueror of Carole Moore in the Colgate North of England 2-Star. Scores:

In the afternoon the juniors, lacking the services of Howard Leigh and Andrea Holt, who were at Lilleshall, triumphed 9–1 over Beds whose only success came in the last set when Peter Edwards just got home 28–26 in the third against Phil Cranstshaw. Scores:

At the Regional Junior and Cadet Trials held at Market Drayton over the weekend of Sept 24/25 Lancs provided the No. 1 Cadet boy in David Carse of Bury. Kristina Cox of Liverpool came second in the cadet girls' behind Louise Sherratt of Staffs. Rochdale's Lee Brown finished in second spot behind Carse and Andrew Eden of Preston came fifth.

In the Junior boys Colin Hogarth of Fleetwood came third, behind Keith Weatherby of Ches. and S. Meigh of Staffs. Howard Leigh of Bury came fifth and Sean Gibson (Preston) eleventh.

MR. JOHN RUSSELL

It is with regret that we report the recent death of John Russell. Dorset Veteran player and current County champion. John, who lived in Moordown, Bournemouth, died suddenly during a table tennis match for his local team. Letchett, in the Poole league.

John also played in the Bournemouth league. As secretary, he ran the Bournemouth YMCA club with untiring enthusiasm, and all benefited from his kindness and advice so freely given. In addition, he served on the general management committee of the YMCA and his many other interests included chairmanship of a local football team.

John, ranked No. 2 veteran in the County, has played many times for Dorset, as well as on countless occasions for Bournemouth in the Hampshire league. His tolerance and unselfish attitude won him many friends and he will be sorely missed.

John, who was 45, leaves a widow, Rachelle, and two daughters, Abigail and Elaine, all to whom we offer our deepest sympathies.

LAC.
The Stamco Sussex 2-Star tournament was held at the White Rock Pavilion, Hastings over the weekend of Oct 8/9 and again proved very successful. With a record entry of 283 competitors (the best since 1965), which included 17 of the top 20 men and 6 of the top 7 women ranked in England, this was an excellent entry for this early 2-Star event and greatly pleased and encouraged the organisers and their sponsors.

Men's singles holder and No. 1 seed Graham Sandley, retained his title with a final win over 5th seed Colin Wilson who had earlier beaten 3rd seed David Wells in the semis; and 2nd seed Paul Day in the quarters. Sandley's run to the final had been simplified somewhat by the non-appearance of David Hannah, the top player from Scotland and equal 5th seed who must have got his dates mixed as he was on international duty for Scotland on the Sunday.

However, Sandley's stiffest test was in the quarters against his Middlesex colleague John Souter (equal 5th) just squad after the 3rd round; the only time he was extended to a decider. Kenny Jackson was Sandley's semi-final victim in an easy first game, far closer in the second.

The final itself was delayed by a few minutes when Sandley and Wilson discovered that a practical joker had touched the net and landed on the table. Second seeds Souter and Wilson just pipped top seeds Day and Jackson. At game-all Day and Jackson led 8-2, but then fought at 14-all, then led again 20-19 with match point but could not take it. And when the score went on to 22-all, it was Souter and Wilson who took the next 2 points and the title.

Off the table during that final, a problem with one of the scoring machines was causing much amusement to all but the players, who were oblivious to our esteemed Sussex colleague Bert Fretwell twiddling the machine. Within the silence of the arena, subdued giggles and whispers were heard when, as Bert struggled to turn the cards over, one flipped back, clipping him in the eye, and so from then on he had to continually bob up and down over the machine and force the cards down into position with one hand, while the other hand turned both cards over. What a spectacle!

Quite how the umpire, Miss Moors, was able to score the remainder of the game without a trace of emotion in her voice is beyond me!

Veterans' singles winner this year was the unseeded Ray Murray who excelled to beat 2nd seed Peter D'Arcy in Rd. 2, Gordon Chapman in the quarters, "Stan the Bat" in the semis, and Ron Norton, the 3rd seed, in the final which was played on Sunday afternoon.

Trophies were presented by Mr. Shephardson from main sponsors Stamco, and the finals which began at 6 p.m. ended at the respectful hour of 9.30 p.m. Well done to all helpers, umpires, and staff at the White Rock; we'll be back in 1984 for the 49th Open Championships of Sussex (and we promise we'll get some better balls and scoring machines...). P.S. Did you see the publicity in all the daily papers on Monday?!? (Thanks Bob...)

COLGATE NORTH OF ENGLAND 2-STAR OPEN

Cooke DELIVERS BRUSH-OFF

by George Yates

Having won the boys’ singles title twelve months previously, Derbyshire’s Alan Cooke returned to Stretford Sports Centre on September 24 to snap up the men’s title defeating the defending title holder, Kevin Beadsley of Yorkshire, in a one-sided final.

And, for more measure, partnered by Andy Creed of Avon, the men’s doubles title was also annexed with Cheshire’s Brian Johns and Wayne Percival on the receiving end.

On two successive weekends 18-year-old Cooke has kept a clean sheet, both in singles and doubles, for he emerged unscathed from the Quadrangular matches in Bolton on September 16/17.

Much interest at Stretford was also centered on the women’s singles in which Carole Moore (nee Knight) was beginning her comeback trail following a change of heart on her previously announced retirement at Woking last season.

But it was not to be in the Colgate North of England for, after an opening success against Yorkshire’s Lesley Broomhead, the Cleveland looper fell to Sandra Peakman of Warwickshire -16, -21.

Nor was Carole any more successful in the women’s doubles, losing in the second round to Janet Dunning and Jill Harris, when partnered by Helen Shields. No, the women’s events proved a happy hunting ground for Lancashire’s Joy Grundy, who successfully defended her singles title, and also won the doubles partnered by Jean Parker.

In a classic girls’ singles final Debbie Soothill fought back from an opening game deficit to account for Joanne Shaw whilst in the boys’ final Richard Hayward had the edge over Jonathan Goode.

Derek Schofield, that veritable "king of the oldies" took the veterans’ title at the final expense of Geoff Brook.

Because of a contractual engagement in Federal Germany top seed in the men’s singles, John Hilton, had to scratch although his lively son, Kirk, made his presence felt with an invasion of the "pitch".

Wiltshire’s Kevin Satchell was another missing seed in whose absence Lancashire’s Steve Cowley - not long returned to these shores from Australia and married to the former Bucks player Nikki Hamilton - made the quarters, going under to Andy Rich from Hilton’s part of the draw.

At the other end, second seed Alan Fletcher fell foul of his fellow Tyke Beadsley having survived a hard struggle with Scot John Broe in the previous round.

Between the outer limits young Cooke sailed serenely through 2-straight against veterans Eddie Griffiths and Pete D’Arcy - the latter recovering from a cartilage op - and Philip Gunn. It was only in his quarter-final meeting with Chris Rogers that the pride of Chesterfield was extended to a third game.

Andy Bellingham won one hell of a quarter-final against Nigel Eckersley, 20 in the third, the Wolverhampton player going out in like fashion to Beadsley in the semis.

Despite the attraction of Manchester League chairman Harold Johnson and President Benny Casofsky both of whom struck to their tasks all day long, Stretford Sports Centre was above average which must have pleased tournament organiser Leslie Jones who, now aged 74, still has his shoulder very much to the wheel. This too can also be said for Manchester League chairman Harold Johnson and President Benny Casofsky both of whom struck to their tasks all day long.

Sheer determination was not enough for Cleveland’s Carole Moore who, attempting a comeback at Stretford, was beaten by Sandra Peakman of Warwickshire. (Photo by Tony Edenden, Barlestone, Nuneaton).

Of course, some of these ladies do enter Men's events in open tournaments and this will be covered from this season, doubling the points scored for the men.

The "Veterans Association"

I expected some interest but have been overwhelmed with the response and so far I have received over 100 replies from all over the country. Therefore, having looked at the Calendar of Events the most appropriate date for a meeting to be convened appears to be Sunday, 15th January, 1984. At this meeting it is hoped the Association will be inaugurated and dates agreed for the holding of an Annual Veterans' Championships, the first to be very quickly now with a lot of help being given to the young promising players - probably a spin off from the Lentec ranking scheme. The total amount currently received by the E.T.T.A. from the trade in direct payments, advertising and equipment is about £40,000 per season, and this does not include any assistance to leagues and counties or to individual players.

Probably the most effective assistance given by the trade is the provision of good quality tables which are let out on permanent hire to member clubs by the E.T.T.A. The scheme was started by Jaques in 1968 and is currently being operated jointly by Jaques and Dunlop, though Halex and Stiga have participated for a few years in between. The scheme helps the E.T.T.A to obtain an income of about £15,000 per season and ensures first class tables being available for even the smallest club.

Such assistance by the trade has been invaluable throughout our whole existence and it is vital that it should continue; there is just no substitute that could cover such a wide area. The E.T.T.A. is very grateful to its friends in the trade and expect all our members to give their whole-hearted support when they consider renewing their equipment, both their own and that of their club. If you want to be good, you should look good.

E.T.T.A. and the Regular Support from the Trade

Indirectly the members benefited by the regular support from the trade with advertisements in local handbooks, and still do so. Individual members have always been assisted by the trade with clothing and other equipment and this practice is growing very quickly now with a lot of help being given to the young promising players - probably a spin off from the Lentec ranking scheme.

THE VETERANS' SCENE
by Mike Watts

"What about the women?" is the cry following the publication of my article on Veterans that appeared in last month's magazine. Well, I can assure them that they have not been forgotten as the ranking list below, based on last season's County Championships results, show.

Robert Oldfield, the E.T.T.A.’s Development Officer, has accepted the offer of new employment as ‘Promotions Executive’ for the Keep Britain Tidy Group (KBTG). Accordingly Robert has formally tendered his resignation with the intention of joining the KBTG on Monday, November 7th, 1983.

Fortunately it is Robert’s intention to still serve the ETIA in a voluntary capacity.

We wish him well.

Congratulations to Donald and Jill Parker (nee Hammersley) on the birth of a son, Adam, on October 14 at Lancaster Royal Infirmary. Baby Adam weighed in at 8½lbs. Jill, like Linda Jarvis before her, came through with colours flying. Pictured below Ben Jarvis at home in Guisborough, Cleveland.

Jill Hammersley-Parker Table Tennis Foundation

Earlier this year I retired from International Table Tennis play and so for the past few months I have been able to observe the table tennis scene in a more dispassionate and objective way. I can now see what is required to develop the game for some of our leading young players. In short more need international playing experience. The scheme I wish to present to you is modelled on a similar scheme pioneered in Sweden (the leading European table tennis country) - is one which needs your support.

In the World Championships in Tokyo recently in which England did so remarkably well - coming fourth in the men’s team event and seventh in the women’s team event - we soon realized that two young English players had arrived. 15 year-old Carl Prean and 16 year-old Lisa Bellinger suddenly produced a string of important victories. These were the two players who have had the opportunity of playing abroad in tournaments and the returns have been rich for English Table Tennis. However, what we clearly need is much greater depth of outstanding English players coming up to international experience from the junior ranks. More success will be good for England and good for the game. It will produce wider interest at the grass-roots. Quite simply we must begin to prepare now for the World Championships in Delhi in 1987 and the Olympic Games in Korea in 1988 when table tennis will be an Olympic Sport for the first time.

The costs are, of course, enormous and the English Table Tennis Association can only afford to pay for very few youngsters each year to gain the necessary experience in playing in the top events. Hence, I want to provide a way by which many more juniors can develop their game in top tournament play. For this reason I am launching “The Jill Hammersley-Parker Table Tennis Foundation” to provide financial assistance to youngsters who will benefit from such a scheme. Clearly we have a long way to go to compete with Sweden but we need to get organised and ensure that as wide a range of players as possible gain international playing experience. In that way we will produce good teams in the future. The alternative is a bleak one. At best we will continue to produce one or two who are outstanding individual players but no English teams of serious merit.

I am very keen to put something back into the game which I have enjoyed as a player for so many years and this is one way I can see of helping. I am writing around to persons who will assist the scheme in additional ways. I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

JILL HAMMERSLEY-PARKER, M.B.E.

DETAILS OF THE SCHEME

What do you have to do?

Please become a member of the Jill Hammersley-Parker Table Tennis Foundation (all contributions are welcome but £10 enables you to become a member) by writing a cheque to The Jill Hammersley-Parker Table Tennis Foundation, The Barn, Common Bank. Dolphinholme, Lancaster LA2 9AN.

What will happen to the money?

A panel of four persons will meet at least twice yearly to decide how to allocate the money over the following six months. The panel will meet soon after the English Junior Closed in December and English Junior Open in May, but other meetings will be arranged as necessary. By normally attaching the additional players financed by the Foundation to the official parties of the E.T.T.A. we will be able to minimize the costs of sending officials to accompany juniors. The panel will consist of Jill Hammersley-Parker as Chairperson, Donald Parker (National Coach and the administrative link with the English selection committee) and two members nominated by members of the Foundation.

What are the benefits of contributing to the Scheme?

Naturally I hope that you will feel that contributing directly to the development of English table tennis in general and junior play in particular is a worthy cause. As well as writing to individual members, Table Tennis News will be the media by which the names and organisations of all members of the Foundation and the activities of the Foundation are made public. I am confident that table tennis players will tend to support those clearly identified as friends of table tennis in their own towns.

Accountability

Each September as a member you will get a financial statement an indication of the publicity received and most importantly, the range of players helped.
BOOK REVIEW
by Ron Crayden

TOP-CLASS TABLE TENNIS
by Jill Hammersley M.B.E. and Donald Parker

I have known Jill Hammersley for more than fifteen years and during that time have shared emotionally in many of her notable triumphs and disappointments. I was her first senior team captain and through the years she has become a personal friend. It is therefore with a certain amount of trepidation that I face the task of reviewing her first book. It is never easy to be totally unbiased when a friend is involved.

For the table tennis enthusiast this is a stimulating book, it interests and instructs at the same time. Strokes, tactics and techniques are analysed in detail and with the liberal use of photographs and drawings it is easy even for the tyro to follow. I particularly enjoyed the chapter on the Chinese scene although I did not wholeheartedly agree with the opinion expressed that the Chinese were moving away from their beloved Penholder grip. One of the major reasons of their amazing success story is that the Chinese not only experiment with but promote all styles of play. It is an incontrovertible fact however, that the Penholders have been the most successful and since 1952 only four shake-hand grip players have won the Men’s singles title. In Europe very few are encouraged to use the pen-grip but three who did, all won European and World titles. I thought it a pity that a chapter was not written on playing with and against this important style.

One of the illuminating features of the book is the forthright manner in which the co-authors have tackled the subject. throughout they have written with authority and honesty. It is to be admired that Jill, who had such outstanding successes with a Combination bat can clearly see the detrimental affect it is having on the sport. Both she and Donald believe that standardisation is the only answer to making table tennis an attractive spectator sport again. As professional players Jill and Donald take a kindly but critical look at officialdom - their interest is not for personal gain but for the good of the sport which they both obviously love very dearly.

In closing I must add a note of criticism about the final editing, particularly with regard to the front cover. It has much visual appeal except for the fact that Jill is right handed and not a ‘lefty’ as shown.
