

Letter to Neil Hurford from Estyn Williams – National Council Chairman

Dear Neil

As MAG has not yet appointed its Chairman I am sending this letter through you and would be very grateful if you would circulate it to MAG members.

As you know I have recently become Chairman of National Council and I am anxious that National Council establishes the best possible working relationship with MAG.

Both MAG and National Council exist to advise the Board for the benefit of the sport and the table tennis family and I see them as complementary.

MAG's strength lies in the particular skills of its members who each have expertise in one or more aspects of the sport.

National Council comprises members elected by all the counties in England and its strength lies in its democratic basis and its geographical coverage as specified in the Articles.

I believe we can use our complementary strengths to offer the Board the best possible help and advice.

MAG is still developing the way it will operate so it is perhaps too early for National Council and MAG to decide exactly how best to interact with each other. But as a first step I have asked that you are given sight of all National Council papers and will always welcome your comments on them. I would like to invite you to operate a similar arrangement in reverse.

Once MAG has developed its own operating arrangements I would welcome discussions on how we can work together to help improve the sport for our members.

With my very best wishes

Estyn
